RAIL CITY IN DNEIPER BEND IS CAPTURED

Column That Smashes Into Znamenka One of Several Driving Through Crumbling Defenses

DRIVE ON KIROVOGRAD

By EDWARD D. BALL
London, Dec. 10.—(P)—The Red army has captured Znamenka, hub of a system of railroads linking the Dnieper river bend with the area south of Kiev. Premier-Marshal Josef Stalin announced today in a special order of the day. The Soviet column that smashed into the town was one of several driving through crumbling Nazi defenses in the Dnieper bend and fanning out from the Kremenchuk bridgehead. The capture of the heavily fortified German bastion cut the last of four rail lines centering in that town and brought the weight of the Russian Dnieper bend offensive directly against Kirovograd, the next stronghold in the path of Red army forces threatening to outflank Kirovograd. Stalin's order of the day said Znamenka had fallen after three days of fierce fighting and termed the town a "powerful strong point in the German defenses in the Kirovograd direction." The Russians declared the great German counterattack west of Kiev in the Zhitomir and Korosten bulge has been checked after three days in which 350 German tanks and 5,000 enemy troops were destroyed. The German communiqué, however, asserted that the Nazis "gained further ground in spite of stiff enemy resistance." The German war bulletin said (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Snake Bite Victim Is Still Dangerous

Red Bank, N. J., Dec. 10.—(P)—Hospital authorities said today the chance of recovery for 13-year-old Fred Wege, bitten in school by a deadly coral snake, was "100 per cent better" than it had been before injection of a second dose of serum at midnight, but the boy still was on the danger list. He was bitten shortly after school opened yesterday morning, having uncapped one of two jars in which he brought a pair of the beautiful but venomous southern snakes to show his biology class. Speeding to Red Bank by train and police automobile, Nigel Wolff, herpetologist from the Philadelphia zoo, administered a dose of cobra anti-venom at 1:30 p. m., yesterday and the second at midnight. By this morning, the hospital said, the muscular spasms caused by the venom's attack on the nervous system had dwindled in frequency, but Wolff stood by in case a third injection should be indicated.

GREAT COMBAT FLIER IS REPORTED MISSING

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 10.—(P)—Navy Fighter Pilot Lt. Comdr. Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare, dubbed by President Roosevelt one of the greatest combat fliers in aviation history, is missing in action. The St. Louis ace who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for blasting five Jap bombers out of the sky lone-handed in a battle of the Coral Sea was reported by the navy to have disappeared on a flight mission, probably somewhere in the South Pacific. Notification was received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Selma O'Hare of Phoenix, Ariz., and his wife, the former Rita Wooster of St. Louis who now lives in San Diego, Calif. O'Hare is the father of a baby girl.

Advice Is Given On Treating Influenza

Harrisburg, Dec. 10.—(P)—Appearance of influenza in the form of an acute infection of the upper respiratory tract in various sections of Pennsylvania in the last weeks was reported by Dr. A. H. Stewart, secretary of health. Dr. Stewart, in a statement yesterday, declared "the majority of those stricken are showing recovery in from 48 to 72 hours" and added "very few deaths" have been reported. "Public health officers and individual citizens should be on their guard against this infection which if neglected can lead to serious complications," he said. "Everyone who contracts influenza or grippé should get into bed at its first sign and remain there until permitted to leave by his physician."

President Is Repudiated on Rail Pay Issue

Senate Votes 74 to 4 in Favor of 8-Cent Hourly Wage Hike

IS BITTERLY OPPOSED

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Legislation to raise the pay of 1,100,000 railroad clerks and other non-operating workers went to the house today, boosted along by an overwhelming senate vote that amounted to a repudiation of the president's stabilization directors. Headed by Majority Leader Barkley whose office normally makes him the administration spokesman on the floor—the senate voted 74 to 4 in favor of the 8-cent hourly wage hike late yesterday. If the house concurs the resolution will be sent to the president. The vote came only two days after War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes attacked the proposal as inflationary, and ignored an earlier challenge from Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson. Senator Ellender (D-La.) made a vain attempt to stave off yesterday's vote with a plea to postpone action until congress had decided what to do about food subsidies. He was the only senator to hold out the retail cost of living. He argued the pay resolution, sponsored by Senator Truman (D-Mo) was an invitation to rising living costs. Vinson rejected the 8-cent-an-hour increase when it came before his office and recommended instead a sliding scale varying from four to ten cents an hour, depending on the individual job.

Speedy Action Is Sought For Revenue Bill

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Aiming for a speedy decision on total revenue to be raised by the new tax bill, Chairman George (D-Ga) urged the senate finance committee today to act promptly on a series of broad amendments affecting the renegotiation of war contracts. "By Saturday," he told reporters, "I hope we can face squarely the larger questions of how much revenue we are going to get, and whether we should stand by the house pattern or strike out for additional money." Downward adjustments of proposed new excise and postal rates already have reduced the prospective annual yield of the bill from $2,139,300,000, its level when it (Turn to Page Thirteen)

American Sea and Air Power Blazes Challenge To Enemy Island Defenses In The Pacific

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor

American sea and air power has blazed a strong challenge to Japanese supremacy along the eastern fringe of the enemy's island defense line anchored to battered Rabaul and the Pacific fortress of Truk. Bombardment by ships and planes came as the possible preliminary to actual invasion of the Nipponese bases that stand in the way of Allied penetration into the Philippines and The Netherlands East Indies.

Formidable forces of the Pacific fleet steamed into enemy waters to deliver the first naval bombardment of oval-shaped Nauru Island, 500 miles west of the Gilbert Islands, in the wake of aerial raids on three islands in the 800-mile long Marshall group to the north-east.

Allied planes kept up the systematic pounding of the invasion-vulnerable home tip of New Britain, the home of Rabaul, while Australians speared the extermination of the Japanese from the Hun peninsula of New Guinea with the capture of Wareo in the mountain jungles.

Victorious Chinese troops secured their hold on recaptured Changchun in Hunan province while fighting still raged northwest of the "rice bowl" city. The Chinese army spokesman declared the Japanese lost 15,000 killed and 25,000 wounded in the 40-day battle for Changchun.

The spokesman, Maj. Gen. C. C. Tseng, termed it the bitterest battle for war-torn China has seen since Shanghai in 1937. He praised the American 14th Air Force for its support of Chinese ground troops in the bloody fight.

The Berlin radio quoted a spokesman at Japanese headquarters in China as declaring "the situation in China has become more confused and more serious, and therefore is receiving greater attention."

From the same source came the assertion that American fliers in the Pacific were receiving orders "to bomb the Japanese mainland and communication between Japan and the mainland."

Carrier aircraft joined the American warships in laying down a barrage of bombs and shells on equatorial Nauru Dec. 8. It was the third time the atoll, which stands on the route to Truk, had been attacked since September. Details of the latest raid were not announced immediately.

On the previous day, Liberators of the Seventh Army Air Force raided Tarao, Milne and Jaluit in the Marshalls. At Jaluit, which is 1240 miles east of Truk, a patrol boat was sunk and a medium bomber probably sunk.

Allied planes attacked Cape Gloucester, on the southwest coast of New Britain, for the ninth consecutive day, although on a lighter scale, to reduce the strength of enemy resistance to any invasion move.

Across the strait between New Britain and New Guinea, Australian ground forces that fought up a 1,000-foot hillside to capture Wareo, 12 miles northwest of coastal Finschhafen, continued in pursuit of the enemy, while the Allied air arm struck at Japanese positions.

Southern Revolt Of Dems Is Cooling

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—A hot tempered southern revolt cooled perceptively today as Senator Byrd (D-Va) declined to accept a proposal by Senator Smith (D-SC) that Byrd become a candidate for president on an independent Democratic ticket to be formed in the south.

At the same time, however, Byrd made it plain that southern members intend to press for the immediate replacement of Senator Guffey (D-Pa) as chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee because of Guffey's charge last week that the southerners had joined with Republicans in an "unholy alliance" to defeat the administration's service men's vote bill.

It was this Guffey charge that provoked Smith to tell the senate yesterday the south ought to organize its own political party, back Byrd as a candidate and "try to get one decent president."

DISTRICT BUSINESS UP

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(P)—Pittsburgh district business moved to a new record level last week—177.0 per cent of the 1935-39 average. A year ago it stood at 164.0. The Pittsburgh University's bureau of business research said that although steel mill operations declined slightly last week, this was offset by an advance in bituminous coal production.

ALLIES FORGE AHEAD ALONG ITALIAN FRONT

Canadians of Eighth Army Gain Eight Miles While Americans Occupy Another Ridge

FIGHT IN THE CLOUDS

R. EDWARD KENNEDY
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Dec. 10.—(P)—The Fifth Army has cracked German defenses on both sides of the Via Casilina at Mignano in a bloody nine-day offensive brought to a smashing climax by American troops who seized Mt. Samucro in "the battle of the clouds". Allied headquarters announced today.

At the same time it was disclosed that Canadian, infantry and tanks, spearheading the Eighth Army along the Adriatic, were smashing forward on an eight-mile front forcing a second crossing of the Moro river.

But the yardstick of military achievement their success is one of the greatest of the Mediterranean theatre, for they have smashed in a little over a week what the enemy hoped would stand as an impregnable line for many more months, and they have overcome terrain and fortifications substantially more difficult than those in Tunisia which stalled the Allied attack for a whole winter.

The American engagement consisted of bloody hand-to-hand fighting with the Germans in mists which hugged the top of the 3,000-foot high mountain.

The Canadians were said to be firmly established in their Moro river bridgehead, the second such foothold that Eighth Army troops have gained across the stream.

In a nine-day battle the Americans, with their British Allies, had now driven the Germans from the entire mountain mass of Casimo and Maggiore in the Mignano vicinity, thereby ripping a giant hole in the enemy line blocking the road to Rome, 78 straight-line miles distant.

Falling in the Allied sweep was the last German-held village in the Mignano vicinity, Rocca D'Evandro on the northwest slope of Mt. Cammino.

The Allies now firmly occupied (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Whisky Situation For Christmas Is Easing

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Reports that the Christmas whisky situation is easing a bit in the north reached the capital today as a senate committee opened public hearings in an effort to find out what's going on in the liquor business.

Investigators for the committee said they had heard a few "curb stone reports" that there is a little more liquor on some store shelves in the east and speculated whether the senate's decision to investigate had jarred some hidden stocks loose.

Bradford May Be On Airplane Route

Bradford, Dec. 10.—(P)—An air mail and passenger route is scheduled for this city if an application filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday is approved, announced John E. Walker, assistant to President W. A. Patterson of United Airlines.

Here to inspect Bradford's new $1,000,000 airport and meet aviation officials, Patterson said the route would stretch 475 miles from Cleveland to New York and Newark and would include, besides Bradford, Ashtabula, O. Erie, Pa., Jamestown, Elmira and Binghamton, N. Y., and Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

He said the route would go into operation immediately upon CAB approval of the application. It would be Bradford's first regular air service. The new port here was built as an emergency landing field for the army and was turned over to the city a short time ago.

BILL OF RIGHTS DAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 10.—(P)—Pennsylvanians were called on by Governor Martin to mark the anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights next Wednesday "with renewed expressions of allegiance to the principles of Americanism and devotion to the constitution of the United States."

A. P. Correspondent Piano Accompanist

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(P)—When Irving Berlin entertained war correspondents in London recently, his piano accompanist was Franklin Presser, former Associated Press day editor in Pittsburgh. Berlin's singing was the feature of a cocktail party the composer gave for newsmen. Banker wrote his wife. Banker, who formerly worked in AP Bureau at Harrisburg and Newark, N. J., went abroad as a war correspondent last August.

Final Stages Of Air Attacks Under Way

Classic "Four Phases" of Strategic Bombings Are Outlined

1,800,000 ARE HOMELESS

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—The first official indication that the air offensive against Germany has passed the preliminary phases and entered on the final knockout stage preparatory to a land invasion was made public today in an army school survey report. In the same article, Col. Ray W. Clifton of the army air forces disclosed that five divisions of infantry combat units have been formed from the Luftwaffe personnel—"an indication that Germany is getting short of aircraft" and is preparing to fight on the ground.

Clifton, an instructor at the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, discussed the classic "four phases" of strategic bombing in the survey.

Missing List Has Name Of Local Flier

Word was received here last evening that Lt. Allan M. Metzger, son of C. Emerson Metzger, of Tarentum and Warren, is reported by the War Department as missing in action. The date given is November 29 and it is believed likely the young officer was lost in the raid on Bremen on that date.

He was a grand-nephew of Mrs. Maude Stonestifer, 410 Fourth avenue, whose last letter came from England and was sent on from New York December 8.

Lt. Metzger has been in England since September, going from Grenier Field at Lancaster, N. H. A graduate of Utica, Pa., High School and Harrisburg Military Academy, he later attended Clar (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Substantial Gifts Are Made To Alias Santa Claus Fund

There ain't no need o' moanin' There never was no use: 'Cause when I start o'groanin' Long comes the Loyal Moose.

Old Alias Santa Claus always has something up his sleeve that sorta startles a fellow but never before did he start making rhymes out of the fact that he was tickled pink. Why, the old fellow fairly beamed as he waved the check he got from the Order of Moose and he grinned and gurgled like a baby with one of those no colic bottles. It was a generous gift and caused Old Alias to surmise that perhaps some of the other clubs about the town would be moved to emulate the Moose and peel off a goodly chunk from their bank rolls. It's possible.

And Allan Gibson and W. T. Corbett, who keep an eye on the funds of the Salvage Committee, are engaged in an audit of their books in an effort to see just what the Salvage Committee can do for the fund. They gave a generous gift last year and it just wouldn't surprise anyone if tomorrow they announced that again they would do some more Salvage Work and help salvage some happiness for a bundle of kiddies and grownups of the town. And is Old Alias waitin'?

Just because some organizations are kicking in with substantial checks is no reason why the little donations should cease. You know how the little boy saved the dime by sticking his finger in the hole? Well, a little in the right place will help a lot, so keep the dollar bills or even ten half-dollar pieces coming in. Every little bit added to what Alias Santa Claus has will make just a little bit more.

Executive Flies To Famous Island On Huge C-54 Douglas

Illuminated Scroll Is Presented on Behalf of American People With Promise That U. S. Will Stand Staunchly With British

HAS ESCORT OF LIGHTNINGS AND SPITFIRES

By the Associated Press
Valletta, Malta, Dec. 10.—Traveling by plane, President Roosevelt visited this bomb-marked British Mediterranean base on Wednesday, presented its people an illuminated scroll on behalf of the American people, and declared the United States would stand staunchly with the British Empire and other Allies after the war to make "it a victory worthwhile."

En route from the series of epic conferences in which he and Prime Minister Churchill engaged in the Middle East, the president arrived in a huge C-54 Douglas four-engine troop transport with an escort of 20 Lightning and Spitfire fighters.

The scroll, which eventually will be cast in bronze and placed in Valletta's main square, saluted Malta and its defenders for "valorous service far above and beyond the call of duty" during the dark period while Axis aircraft kept the island under a virtual constant alert.

The president's plane touched on the world's most bombed airfield at 9:50 a. m. Wednesday, after appearing over the island out of a brilliant blue, cloud-veiled sky.

The unprecedented visit followed one by Prime Minister Churchill, who had called at Malta en route to the Cairo conferences.

A guard of honor, including an RAF unit, 50 British marines, 50 Royal Navy men, and 100 United States and Maltese troops, lined up on the airfield with a royal artillery band to welcome Mr. Roosevelt, first president of the United States ever to visit the island.

First to greet the president was Field Marshal Lord Gort, commander-in-chief of Malta.

With Lord Gort, the president stepped into a jeep named "Husky" which belongs to Air Vice Marshal Park and is one of three presented to Gort by Gen. Eisenhower when Sicily was invaded.

As the jeep came to a stop in front of the guard of honor, the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner". The president took the salute and the stars and stripes broke out on the mast behind the guard.

Addressing himself to Field Marshal Gort, the troops and the people of Malta, President Roosevelt said:

"Nearly a year ago the prime minister and I were at Casablanca shortly after the landings by British and American troops in North Africa, and at that time I told the prime minister some day we would once more control the whole Mediterranean and then I would go to Malta.

"For many months I have wanted on behalf of the American people to pay some little tribute to this island and to all the people, both civil and military, who during these years have contributed so much to democracy, not just here but all over the civilized world.

"So at last I have been able to come. At last I have been able to see something of this historic land and I wish I could stay, but I have many things to do."

After his talk the president read from the scroll in a handwritten (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Axis Propaganda Sinks Wisconsin

London, Dec. 10.—(P)—Tokyo propagandists are now sinking American battleships as fast as they are launched and months before they are ready to put to sea. The Berlin radio, quoting a Tokyo report, soberly announced today the sinking of the 45,000-ton U. S. S. Wisconsin "in one of the biggest sea battles off Bougainville."

The superb battleship Wisconsin was launched only three days ago at Philadelphia on the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—(P)—The Fourth Naval District public relations office expressed regret today that it did not receive the news of the "sinking" of the battleship Wisconsin, reported by the Tokyo and Berlin radios, in time to publish it in the Navy and Beacon, which came off the press earlier in the morning.

BEATING GIVEN YOUNG WOMAN PROVES FATAL
Wilkes-Barre, Dec. 10.—(P)—A young woman silk worker, who police said was beat on the head when she got out of an automobile which took her to work yesterday, died last night, while her sister, who also was injured, was reported in a critical condition. Detectives said a man was being questioned about the attack. The dead woman was identified as Miss Gabriella Beck and the other as Mrs. Irene Sura.

BURNS PROVE FATAL
Rochester, Pa., Dec. 10.—(P)—Burns suffered from explosion of cleaning fluid ignited her clothing caused the death of Mrs. Edna G. Rowland, 37, last night in Rochester hospital. Fire did about $1,000 damage to the Rowland residence.

London, Dec. 10.—(P)—British light naval forces, making an offensive sweep off the coast of Holland near IJmuiden early today, probably sank one of four merchant ships in an enemy convoy escorted by German motor torpedo boats and fast gunboats, the admiralty announced.

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Approximately 90,000 Washingtonians have been attacked by influenza since an outbreak of a mild form of the malady shortly after Thanksgiving Day, the District of Columbia health department estimated today.

Sylvania, Inc. Has Helpful Savings Plan

Members of the Savings and Retirement Plan of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., will benefit from a profits distribution equaling approximately 100 per cent of their own contributions into the Savings and Retirement fund at the end of the year, it was announced by John S. Leary, chairman of the Savings and Retirement committee.

Under the Sylvania plan, all employees with three years' service or more are eligible to participate in the Savings and Retirement program by contributing 3 per cent of their pay. Persons hired between the ages of thirty-five and forty need only two years for eligibility, those hired at forty and over require only one year.

Supplementing the employee's contribution the company pays into the fund 4% of its net income before federal taxes, an amount which for the year 1943 will roughly equal the total member contributions. The company also makes an additional fixed contribution to the fund equal to one-half of the employee's contribution.

At the present time there are over 2,600 employees of the company who are members of the Savings and Retirement Plan. Next year a large number of new employees will complete the required waiting period and become eligible to join the plan.

Tony Pastor, who brings his popular dance band to Library Theatre on Tuesday afternoon and evening was a member of one of the first orchestras to broadcast on radio. This was the Worthy Hills Orchestra from the Club of that name, via Station WTIC Hartford, Conn.

Tony's vocal interpretations have been a feature on phonograph records with several bands—on Columbia discs with Joe Venturi, an Brunswick platters with Artie Shaw's String Band and earlier on Bluebird waxings with the famous Shaw swing band.

Now with his famous orchestra he is featured on the Bluebird label for RCA Victor. His band, although it is similar to Shaw's in instrumentation and while he plays many original Shaw arrangements, presents a "pastorized" style of swing that is Pure Pastor.

During recent broadcasting over NBC it has been said he had the finest band on NBC, due to his fine arrangements, outstanding entertainment features and the fine musicianship of the band—he knew at all times what was needed for fine radio programs was one of the things that gained for him the title of "The Band of 1942."

Father Is Shot By Son When Rifle Goes Off

Reports from the hospital today as to the condition of Ed Werlin, 238 West Fourth street, Erie, are that he is resting comfortably after being treated for a gun shot wound. The wound was in the calf of the leg and the bullet came from a .32 calibre gun. The bullet did not tear the flesh and no trouble is expected from it and Mr. Werlin may be allowed to go home today.

Werlin was shot while in the woods above the Outing Club. With his twin sons he was on his way to some point near Bradford. The boys were 14 years of age and all of the party had brought their guns with them on the trip. While driving on the Kinzua road the party spotted some deer among which was a buck. Parking the car along the roadside, Mr. Werlin and son, William, 14, took their guns and entered the woods. They had only traveled a short distance when a twig caught in the trigger of the gun and it was discharged. The bullet entered his father's leg.

One of the party made his way to the service station at the junction of the Sheffield-Kinzua road and called for an ambulance. The Lutz car responded. Police accompanied the ambulance through the traffic to the hospital and a quick run was made.

Registration Reminder For All Landlords

Jamestown area landlords must register all rental accommodations, Frederick C. Backus, Buffalo OPA Acting District Rent Executive, said today in announcing that registration forms are available at OPA Rent Headquarters in Jamestown, and also at the Warren and Dunkirk rationing boards.

Landlords must appear personally or have their agents appear when completing registration papers, Backus declared, adding that unless landlords adhere to rental regulations they are apt to find themselves in serious trouble for charging more than the rent of March 1, 1942. A treble damage action may be brought against landlords exceeding the maximum rent.

Backus also pointed out that when a landlord has a new tenant he must notify the area office of the change of tenancy. This notification must be made on OPA form D-25 which applicants may secure by calling in or writing to rental headquarters. "All Jamestown Area landlords must adhere to these regulations," the Rent Executive stated, adding "that there is no excuse for ignorance of the law and all necessary regulation papers may be obtained by writing to any rental office".

Under rent regulations a landlord is any person who accepts rent for shelter of human beings. This includes any tenant who sublets a part of his rental accommodations to a sub-tenant, even though the entire premises were formerly registered by the owner.

A rental accommodation which is offered for rent for the first time after October 1, 1942 (the original registration period) is required to be registered within 30 days of renting. The landlord can set his own maximum legal rent but this is subject to review by the OPA and may be reduced if found to be higher than the rent for comparable accommodations as of March 1, 1942.

Backus pointed out that because of Amendment No. 9 to the Regulations, effective October 1, 1943, if the landlord fails to file a registration statement within 30 days, the rent received for any rental period commencing on or after the date of the first renting or October 1, 1943, whichever is the later, shall be subject to refund to the tenant of any amount in excess of the maximum rent which may later be fixed by OPA review.

Auto Stolen; Youths Sought By Patrolmen

What looks like the first real automobile theft since the car of Ab Sandeen, of Union street, was taken some time ago, took place yesterday afternoon when a Ford V8 coupe was taken from in front of a store on Pennsylvania avenue east. Mrs. Arthur Morine, 204 Park street, had driven to the store and was doing some shopping. When she emerged her car was gone.

Police were notified and officers were sent out. Thinking perhaps the car had been parked some place after boys had enjoyed a ride the cruiser car covered the city to no avail. While the officers were cruising about the city they learned that two boys, aged about 15 or 16, had been in the store when Mrs. Morine was in there. The boys bought some cookies and left before Mrs. Morine. Both boys were dark complected and one wore an overcoat and cap and the other a jacket and cap.

Night men gave much of their time to the search for the car but as yet it has not been located.

WHAT THE SOLDIER BOY ASKS

Readers, a little in doubt as to just what boys in the Armed Services desire most for Christmas, may secure a few timely and very helpful suggestions from the following, reprinted from the Camp Lee Traveller, December 23, 1942:

Somewhere Away From Home,
December, 1942

Dear Folks:

I don't want nuts and candy and cookies and cakes this Christmas. I don't want pen and pencil sets, toilet article kits, radios, cigarettes, cigarette lighters, stationery, socks, sweaters, scarfs or ties.

I am asking for something really important this Christmas, something which means more to me than the most glittering, shiny-new and expensive present I have ever received on any previous Christmas morn, something you don't have to wrap in red and green and put in the earliest mail. Something that costs so little.

I want the privilege of seeing Tom, Curtis and Joe and answering their greetings as I meet them on the street.

I want to ease down to a leisurely meal with friends or family and talk about yesterday's football game or tomorrow's election.

I want the chance to work a little harder at my business and worry about honest competition, new shelves and paint.

I want a garden and grass and shrubbery and the opportunity to see the first green speck appear.

I want to denounce practices and policies I don't like and boost those I do.

I want to go with my pals to see a high school play, a movie or a county fair.

I want to see the sparkle of young Nicholas Popovich's eyes and answer his eager question.

I want to respect aged Abraham Isaacson's vitality and admire his mature decisions.

I want to be with my widowed mother and quiet her needless fears.

I want to go to church to worship and pray just as I please.

But I am not going to ask for those things right now. For there is something far bigger to think of. Listen.

Don't let them buy candy, let them buy bonds. It means another bullet for Berlin.

Don't let them spend for sentimental things, let them spend for stamps. It means another swipe at Schickelgruber.

In the meantime, I shall not lose faith in my convictions nor will I tarry at my task, God willing.

Now, what more could I ask?

"PRIMER ON ELECTRONICS"

In view of the fact that the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., recently opened a branch plant in Warren and the publicity that it has received, it is interesting to note that the answer to the reading public's prayer, "A Primer of Electronics," written in simple, everyday language that laymen can understand, is shortly to make its appearance.

Don P. Caverly, commercial engineer with the company, is the author; McGraw-Hill is the publisher; the book is scheduled for pre-Christmas publication.

With the glamor-word "electronics" on everybody's tongue these days, the new book which styles itself a primer and omits complex technicalities, seems destined to fill a widespread need.

An old-fashioned tallow candle, one of man's early attempts at illumination, is actually an electronic device under a loose definition of the science, Caverly declares in his book. Then, to keep from including too broad a field, he limits himself to discussing those devices which have been made for the exclusive purpose of making use of electron emission, and this is the material covered in the book.

A brief reading of early pages of the manuscript discloses the secret of Caverly's success in describing the science of electronics in words that can be understood by almost anyone who can read any primer. He compares the flow of electricity to the flow of water in a pipe, and time and time again he uses the water-electricity comparison, to the great joy of non-scientist readers.

Rapidly approaching the longest nights of the year, one glances around at eight o'clock these mornings to see street lights still on, store windows lighted up and lights on in homes all over the community, a situation which raises the question anew—of what value is daylight saving time during the winter months?

You will still get four pennies per pound for fats salvaged from your kitchen when the new two-points per pound payment plan starts Monday. The War Production Board needs double the amount of fats now being collected. Start saving now.

Unless the three-day open season on doe which opens Monday proves more successful than that for bucks it looks like a lot of venison suppers planned by clubs and lodges in the community will have to be called off, or another meat substituted.

Interesting Items Taken From

It is not often at this season of the year that the hills are free from snow but this year the hills are clear and the roads are the best they have been in many years at this season.

While Donald Rupert and Edward Littlefield, or Bokey, were out by the old Clugh mill yesterday they spied a big black bear. Neither had a gun and they were forced to let the big fellow get away.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Lutheran church last evening served a sauerkraut supper and it was one of the most successful they have ever held. There was a big crowd in attendance and the menu was one that would have reflected credit of Chef Rector.

Licenses were received here today for three licensed places, the Exchange Hotel, Pete McCabe's Restaurant and the Warren Elk's Club. As soon as they arrived by special delivery steps were taken to get stocks of liquor on hand and by tomorrow serving should begin.

Fire starting shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon badly damaged the home of A. G. Eldred, of Fifty avenue. The fire started in the basement and spread rapidly. Everything in the house was either soaked by water or damaged by smoke. The loss is said to be covered by insurance.

Observance of National Cheese Week opening this morning at the Patchen Market when Burgess L. E. Chapman, out a large New York state cheese which has been on display there.

Much interest is being roused in Corydon by the announcement that at the next meeting of the Corydon Grange the pageant "The Silver Star" will be presented by a group under the direction of the lecturer.

Washington in Wartime

(Second of Two Articles)
By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam isn't half as far along in making post-war plans for his employees as most of the big industrialists although he employs far more than any of them (about 3,100,000).

Some steps have been taken, just recently, when it became apparent that the government could not honestly argue legislation forcing or even urging business to take steps it had not already taken itself.

If the Budget Bureau hasn't asked every agency, it soon will demand from them all an outline of their plans for reconversion to peacetime.

At the White House, "assistant president" James F. Byrnes has an organization at work coordinating the conversion plans into an over-all policy. Some weeks ago, Byrnes said that every agency should assign at least one competent person to working out a program for conversion. This, in some instances, might consist of liquidation or a change of duties.

A FEW days later, the President publicly requested Byrnes to establish a coordinating unit. It is considered certain here now that Bernard M. Baruch will have considerable to say about this when he makes his over-all report on conversion and demobilization. But as in so many instances, the question of jurisdiction is still up in the air and being fought out behind the scenes. The Budget Bureau is in the picture. So is the War Manpower Commission, and various agencies within it. The Veterans Administration would like to speak for veterans returning to government jobs. Selective Service feels that it is the logical agency to reverse the order of the draft.

More important than any of these, so far as government employees are concerned, is the Civil Service Commission. It is reportedly making an over-all study of firing and rehiring, as well as how to cushion unemployment for the tens of thousands of temporary and emergency federal workers.

These so-called "temporaries" and "war service employees" will have to be the first to go. Some will have accumulated leave which will carry them for a few weeks while they are searching for new jobs, but in most instances it will be no more than enough to pay the fare home.

IT LOOKS like a job for Congress and it has been rumored that Civil Service, probably with administration backing, will lay before the legislators some plan to put the federal war workers at least on the same basis as those in private enterprises.

It should be pointed out that this isn't all inconsistent with facts outlined in the previous article: that there may be very little net decline in government civilian employment for years after peace comes. There will be a tremendous turnover, as veterans return and temporary war workers seek to get out or are forced out without ratings for reinstatement in other agencies.

All in all, it's a messy state of affairs and isn't making the war workers any happier or contributing to government efficiency in the war effort.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — New names have been popping out in the movie news lately, names the younger generation of movie fans probably never heard. This then is for that youngest generation—so they'll get acquainted.

Here's somebody named Mary Pickford. She's a very little woman who just paid a whopping price for a stage play called "Junior Miss" something like $350,000. She will produce it for the screen. In your pop's day this Mary Pickford was the greatest name in pictures, everybody's favorite star. She played little girls with long golden curls, long after she was grown up and twice married, and she was "America's Sweetheart" and "Our Mary" and lived in a white mansion on a Beverly Hill. Her romance with an equally big star named Douglas Fairbanks (Doug, Jr.'s dad) was more spotlighted than Betty Grable's with Harry James today, and when their marriage broke up it was headlined over the world. Mary's present husband is Charles (Buddy) Rogers, one-time movie star and orchestra leader, now in war service. Mary hasn't starred in a picture since 1933, but has kept active in movie life.

AND here are two sisters—Lillian and Dorothy Gish. They're from the same era as Mary Pickford, and all once worked for a famed early director named David Wark Griffith. But the "Gish girls" left pictures and did right well on the stage. Lillian came back in "Comedian" Strike at Dawn" and with Donald O'Connor in "Top Man," but her main interest seems to be a picture she wrote based on the life of Griffith. She calls it "Silver Glory" and it's the life of this same Griffith, a man who had great influence in raising movies from cheap melmers to today's "pics." This Griffith is here today too, but Hollywood hasn't had a job for him. Dorothy Gish came to play the mother role in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Here's a handsome chap named Nils Asther. Fifteen, sixteen years ago he was a romantic rage. Swedish-born, he played opposite a Swedish siren named Greta Garbo, of whom you may have heard unless you're very young. Asther's accent put him off the screen when the screen began to talk, and he went to the stage, got rid of much of it, and came back. You'll see him starred in "The Man in Half Moon Street."

MAE WEST. Ten years ago she made the nation titter with her burlesques on the grand passion. Off the screen for several years, she's back in "The Heat's On," but if you're very young, well...

Mildred Harris. She was the first wife of a pioneer movie comic named Charles Chaplin, who still reads headlines when he marries. She's in "The Story of Dr. Wassell," not starred, but in it.

Pola Negri. A wow girl of the 1920's, European actress Pola made her come-back as a comedienne in "Hi Diddle Diddle" and still shows plenty of spirit if not so much wov.

Shirley Temple. She was—your big sister can tell you—the baby doll of the last decade. She's a big girl now, fifteen, and she's fast getting glamour. She's in the big time again in "Since You Went Away."

Air Express Use Growing In This District

Agent Gilmore, of the Railway Express Company reports that plenty of business is passing through the local office and that the volume is growing by leaps and bounds. Especially gratifying to Mr. Gilmore is the way the air express business is growing. During the past month it showed an increase of $86.7 over that of last year. In all there were 3,236 pounds of air express handled. The heaviest package weighed 222 pounds and the lightest, three-fourths of a pound.

Rates for air express are gradually being lowered as the volume grows and it is interesting to note that a two-pound package can be sent to Oklahoma for $1.40. In addition the package is insured for $50 and is given special delivery on its arrival. The rate to the Pacific coast is $1.92 for two pounds which is but little over parcel post. Twenty-five pounds can be sent to Pittsburgh for $2. Where airports are not available, the express is sent to the nearest airfield and then forwarded by rail. This expedites the service.

The speed of the air express is shown by the fact that packages for Christmas delivery will be accepted up until December 20.

Rail express also mounting in volume. Much machinery and machine parts are being shipped for the war effort and speed is essential. The service to Pittsburgh and all express for this city is placed in a special car which leaves Pittsburgh at 10:20 at night and it comes to Corry. There the express which has arrived over the Erie railroad is loaded and the car arrives in Warren at 8:20. This is building up a large amount of business in Pittsburgh from Warren due to the excellent service.

Every effort is being made to facilitate the handling of Christmas packages and every person who desires to ship by express for the Christmas season is urged to get their packages moving.

Basil White Good Program New Boosters For Hanging Vice President Of the Greens

Holding their December meeting at Beatty school last evening, Warren School Music Boosters elected Basil White to the office of vice president to succeed the late Bert Marrer and Mrs. Harry Thurn was appointed chairman of a committee to select memorial books for Mr. Marrer to be given the Warren Public Library by friends of his.

Named to head a committee to cooperate with the youth recreation plans in the community was Mrs. William Glassman. Another item of business was the decision to purchase a $200 War Bond.

The large gathering, about 150, was then entertained by Director Harry Summers and members of the Second Band. In addition to group numbers presented, the following were heard as soloists and ensembles:

Concluding, a drill was given by the following majorettes: Alice Betts, Carol Baxter, Mary Slatry, Carol King, Jean Danielson, Verna Peterson.

The evening was brought to a close with refreshments served in the cafeteria by Mrs. A. J. Weller and her committee.

The annual "Hanging of the Greens" at the Y. W. C. A. will take place Monday night at 7:30 in the activities building. It is with this ceremony that the Y. W. C. A. ushers in the Christmas season. There will be a short program, music and candle lighting at the conclusion of which all present will participate in the decorating of the association. The evening's program has been planned so that all groups in the YW family are represented.

Mrs. Carl Lundahl and Mrs. Grover Lind will represent the board of directors; Miss Maye Wells, the All-We-Je Club; Miss Sunny Lucia, Y-Deb Club; Miss Margaret Tingley, Miss Lowene Carlson from the Y.W.C.A. residence. Members of the High School Girls' Club are Ruth Mary Hunkabone, Virginia Johnson and Eleanor Peters and other Girl Reserves participating are Therese Martin, Marie Kanerter, Jeanne Silstrom, Marilyn Dobbs, Joan Finley, Ruth Rowland, Lois Reynolds, Elaine Bova, June Mead, Eleanor Rieg, Jo Ann Smith, Marcia Forsgren, Charlene Nowalk, Joanne Spatafora, Joanne Erickson and Anita Dickerson.

It is realized there will be no Christmas in many countries this year, and many of the old country celebrations that have been handed down through the years will not take place. However at the Y. W. C. A. Monday night there will be an opportunity to hear again of some of these customs and to participate in the ushering in of the Christmas season in a fitting ceremony.

Ellis Island Work Is Ably Presented For DAR Members

The annual Christmas party of General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held in the YWCA parlors Thursday afternoon, opening with the traditional Yuletide carols led by Mrs. C. P. DeLong and accompanied by Mrs. Warren R. Carlin. A beautiful tree, the gift of Mrs. Clarence Ricker, and groups of lighted tapers provided the holiday setting.

The chaplain, Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp, opened the devotions with the Christmas story from Luke 2 and, after prayer, Mrs. DeLong sang softly Gruber's "Silent Night". The regent, Mrs. Leon Laskaris, conducted a brief business session, speaking of the chapter's interest in the Ellis Island work, and presented Mrs. Carlin, who, assisted by Mrs. Ricker, Miss Harriet Eaton and Mrs. Fred A. Schuler, gave a very vivid portrayal of occupational therapy work done in the marine hospital at that place. The DAR provides all the materials for this work and the Christmas offering goes for this purpose. Films were shown concerning the work and articles of much interest were read.

The program concluded with two delightful readings, "Two Birthdays" and "The Night After Christmas", by Mrs. Jessie Swain Girling.

Mrs. Fred Schuler and her committee served the Christmas tea with Mrs. Thomas L. Kane, of Kane, presiding at a tea table centered with a large candelabra surrounded by greens.

Another Hit For Players' Opinion At Opening Night

Judged as an all around performance, the Warren Players' presentation of Harry Segall's "Heavy on Can Wait" is one of their best in recent years. Moving at a swift pace, nicely timed for laughs of which there are plenty, the play has some of the eerie quality of a former presentation, "Outward Bound" but none of the morbidness.

Evidences of amateurism are at a minimum. The large cast shows plainly the effects of professional direction and much credit must be given Betty Rice and Betty Field for their masterful job.

Acting honors, if they can be justifiably awarded, go to Robert Wilder, making his first appearance with the club; Charles Sellin, as the very patient but thorough Mr. Jordan; Nelson Johnson, cast again as the villain of the piece; and Byron Knapp, the voluble but hard-headed fight manager.

Because of tonight's repeat performance, to be given at the Women's Club at 8:30, much cannot be said about the story, but those who plan to attend are in for a very enjoyable evening.

Faintings At Sheffield Are Real Mystery

County Health authorities are investigating a most peculiar condition that has arisen at Sheffield. One evening this week three children in the theater fainted. A physician was called and after investigation it was thought that gas from an open stove had affected the children. They came out of the faint and have had no ill effects.

However on the day following the fainting of the children in the theater three or four others, not all of whom had been at the theater, fainted in school. They were soon revived. Then in another part of the town a woman who had never been at the theater or the school fainted.

In each case similar symptoms were noted. A fainting attack and no ill effects following revival.

The matter is causing much comment in Sheffield and the authorities will check into the case with the Sheffield physicians and endeavor to ascertain if possible what has taken place.

Tuberculosis Society Wins High Praise

The following is an excerpt from recent letter from Dr. Walter L. Rathbun of Newtown Memorial Hospital, Cassadaga, N. Y., who has analyzed all the x-rays taken in the tuberculosis survey. I wish to congratulate you on your accomplishments of your survey during 1943. Your tuberculosis survey of industrial employees of high school students in Warrenton was an up to date step. The results fully justify increased case-finding efforts along same lines in 1944. Tuberculosis is communicable, inherited, and in order to control it effectively, those who are spreading the disease must be isolated. The best way to discover pulmonary tuberculosis, and thereby identify "spreaders", is the x-ray used—x-ray examination of the chest. Therefore, the more the number x-rayed, particularly those who have been exposed to the disease, the better will be your results in the control of tuberculosis. For the information of those who may have refused an examination I would like to add two important reasons why they should be x-rayed: First—Even the most healthy appearing person may have pulmonary tuberculosis. Second—Those most endangered by tuberculosis are their own folks and their intimate associates. I wish you continued success during 1944. The success of the current Christmas Seal sale will govern the extent of Dr. Rathbun's wish for the coming year.

Stamp News

WITH the approval of the Czechoslovakian government in London, the Czechoslovak Philatelic Society has issued stamps commemorating the 25th anniversary of the establishment of the Czech Republic to be used for the country is liberated. The stamp honors the republic's three founders, Dr. Eduard Benes, T. G. Masaryk and General R. Stefanik. The others are memorials to the four lands of the republic—Bohemia, Slovakia, Moravia and Ruthenia. The first issue of 25,000 is already in heavy demand. Copies of the stamps were displayed through most of November at the Czechoslovak Institute in London.

Covers franked with stamps issued by Surinam to commemorate the birth in Canada last January of Princess Margriet of the Netherlands are now arriving in this country. Four stamps make up the set and a similar set was also issued by Brazil. Portraying the royal family with Queen Wilhelmina holding the infant Princess on her lap, Prince Bernhard and Princess Juliana and their other children, Princesses Beatrix and Irene, the values and colors of the stamps are: 2½-cent orange; 7½-cent rose; 15-cent gray and 3-cent dull blue.

The Office of Censorship, Philatelic Control Unit, has recommended to collectors that a philatelic export permit must be obtained to send stamps to any foreign country, whether as a gift or a commercial transaction. Stamps sent to England, Scotland, Wales or the United Kingdom require an import license from the Board of Trade of London, England. Export permits may be obtained from the Office of Censorship at 252 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

Cuba has issued three stamps designed to raise funds for relief of its post office employees. Values and colors are: 1c, green; 3c, vermilion and blue.

Colombia has issued a 15c blue postage stamp bearing a portrait of General Francisco Paula Santander. The French Committee of National Liberation has issued a semi-postal to raise money for aid of unarmament and patriots. Having a value of 9 francs plus 4½, the stamp portrays a female figure, apparently representing French sessions in Africa, offering a cord to La Belle France. In the background is an outline map of the northwestern coast of France.

Chapter 23
FINAL ASSEMBLY
By E. H. LEFTWICH

PETE worried all night about the problem of Kitty, but he could figure no way out of his dilemma. Then, suddenly, miraculously, the solution came to him, just before dawn.

What a fool he had been. It was in the back of his mind, had been there for months and he hadn't been able to see it.

Why, all he had to do was to recommend that Kitty be made Supervisor of a new Department called "Blue-print Interpretation." It was a natural. The Company was a sucker for high-sounding titles and fancy departmental names.

As he pieced incidents together he realized he had on many occasions known that workers in the shop from foreman down had been sending or taking prints to Kitty so that she could locate the dimensions on them. And why, not? Wasn't she a whiz at solving puzzles of all kinds?

Of course, she was. It was her pet hobby. She had almost made a study of these things.

Two hours later, he walked into the plant with heart singing, his report on the paint shop in his hand. He went into the front office and to Art Melvin's desk. He gave the report to Melvin.

"Sit down, Pete," Melvin said, and when Pete was seated, "The F. B. I. and A. A. F. Intelligence have completed their investigation, and since you were innocently accused at one time, I have their permission to give you some of the results of the investigation."

"Fine," Pete said. "I'd like to know who was at the bottom of the troubles we have been having."

"First of all, Pete," Melvin went on, "I want to clear the bad impression you had of our plant."

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, I heard about that talk you made the other night to the second shift, wherein you spoke of the 'red-tape and overall inefficiency' of the plant. I knew isolated position here, I knew nothing of these conditions, especially since I left plant matters entirely in the hands of the general manager whom I trusted. . . . Unfortunately, it will surprise you to know that Ernest Kahl was the head of a ring of saboteurs who carried on their activities almost from the moment we entered the War."

"Kahl deliberately fostered the 'red-tape' and encouraged any and all types of inefficiency to retard production. He directed the Purchasing department to buy just enough screws and other small but vital parts for the ships, with no spares. He trained our engineers to conceal or hide the dimensions on the prints, explaining that if the prints fell into enemy hands, they would be worthless."

For a moment Pete's heart fell. If blue-print troubles were cleared up, the job he had planned for Kitty would flop. But his spirits rose again at Melvin's next statement.

"Unfortunately, engineers are hard to get these days, and our men having been trained to draw prints in this manner, well . . . it would only confuse them now, to have them change their methods suddenly. Besides, we have hundreds of prints in use on this ship and we couldn't very well change them all."

"You needn't worry about the prints, Mr. Melvin," Pete said. "I've solved that problem in this report." He touched the envelope carefully as if it would have been, ordinarily.

"I see. Then, how are you going to like your new position as Supervisor of Blue-print Interpretation department?"

"I'll like it so well," Kitty said, squeezing his arm, "that I've already turned in my resignation to my boss in Washington. I'm going to stay here and put that job over in a big way."

"That's great, Kitty. I thought you'd like that job."

"Like that job?"

"What do you mean, you thought I'd like it. Did you have anything to do with it?"

"Well, now," Pete broke in. "You had me on the spot. You can imagine what kind of a report I'd have had to turn in on you. I had to do something. I invented that job for you."

Kitty squeezed his arm harder. "You're sweet," she said. At the time-clock they parted. "See you at lunch-time," Pete said.

"AND now, Mister Neil," Kitty asked, as they made their way back toward the line after lunch, "just what are you going to get out of all this? You should be made vice-president, at least. Or something."

"Not quite. But I will get something that I believe I'm really going to like."

"Such as . . . ?"

"Personnel manager."

"No."

"Yes."

"But what about Rollins?"

"Rollins is leaving this week. They couldn't prove his connection with the Kahl gang, but they fired him anyway on general principles."

At that moment Alf Mason hurried up to them. Stopping them, he threw out both arms in a gesture of defeat. "I tried to quit," he stated dismally. "For months, I tried to quit . . . but I never could quite make the grade. And now that you got me a real job, a Chief Inspector's job, I want to stay. So what happens?"

"I'll bite," Kitty said. "What happens?"

"They fire me!"

"Kitty and Pete started to laugh but thought better of it, at the look in the old man's eyes. Unconsciously, Pete's arm slid lightly across Kitty's shoulders. "Why did they fire you?" he asked.

"I dropped a screwdriver down in the wing. It rolled down under the inbound gas tank."

"That isn't so bad," Kitty put in. "They didn't get it out?"

"They did get it out, but they had to take off the whole lower panel, drill out the rivets and all, before they could get it out."

THIS was serious, Pete thought. As much as he'd like to help the old man, he knew that he could do nothing. Carelessness which delayed production was inexcusable. "Listen," he said, smiling at Kitty. "It's time you retired, anyway, Mose. There's a little cottage in a place I know. It's opposite a high cliff across the river. The garden needs someone like you to look after it. There are flowers in the front yard that will need attention."

"You can work, mornings in the asylum, and afterwards, you can take care of our gardens." He looked at Kitty and what he saw in her eyes gave him plenty of confidence to go on. "Lots of husbands and wives work in Aircraft plants. We intend to join them. Gently, he squeezed Kitty's shoulder. "The job is yours, Mose," Kitty said.

HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION NEWS

Thelma Prendergast

EXAMINE HOME CANNED FOODS FOR SPOILAGE

No homemaker expects her canned foods to spoil but it's always well to check for spoilage before using a canned fruit or vegetable, reminds Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, Home Economics Ext. Rep., Warren county.

Mold may develop on top of fruit. When mold is present in small amounts, it may be removed from the surface of the fruit and the rest of the food may be eaten with safety. Fruit may darken if it is not covered with syrup or if the jars were not covered with water during the processing. This darkening affects only the appearance and not the taste of the fruit.

There may be a starchy sediment at the bottom of some jars of vegetables. This may be the result of using table salt which contains a starch to prevent caking or by using vegetables that are over-mature so that starch cooks out of them.

All jars of non-acid vegetables that were processed in the boiling water bath must be opened and the contents put into a pan and boiled 10 minutes before tasting, say extension nutritionists of the Pennsylvania State College. This boiling is necessary to check against any form of spoilage. When the jar is opened, some spoilage may be detected by an outburst of gas, or a bad odor, or a cloudy liquid, or a mushy appearance of the food. However, other forms of spoilage, such as flat sour, may not show up until the food is heated. If botulism is present, boiling will kill the toxins produced by the bacteria spores.

Although boiling 10 minutes before tasting is recommended for all non-acid vegetables processed in the boiling water bath, some home-makers prefer to boil those processed in the pressure cooker.

Flat sour is one form of spoilage that boiling does not affect, states Mrs. Prendergast. The sour taste remains after boiling and the food is not suitable for eating because of the sour flavor.

When vegetables are to be served cold or in a salad, heat them 10 minutes, then cool, and they are ready to use.

The colored deposit which sometimes may be found on the underside of metal lids is in no way harmful, providing the contents of the jar show no signs of spoilage.

Scorcher in Prospect With Rivals' Scoring Punch Reaching Peak

When Warren's Blue and White cagers line up against the Jamestown Red and Green tonight at 8:00 it will be reminiscent of the last two battles they've had, both of which the Dragons won by a close count.

Patton Johnson, enormous center for the hilltoppers, caused the locals no end of trouble in last year's games and he'll be in there tonight to take over the jump duties with that memorable occasion in mind. He was well taken care of in the first clash on the Red and Green hardwood when Dean Nelson and Jimmy Urbanski ganged up on him to overcome his control of the bankboards. But the question this year is whether the locals have two men experienced enough to handle his gigantic proportions. Whatever they decide to do about it, controlling him will be a major factor as to whether the Dragons win or lose tonight.

Rounding out the team the Jamestown crew have plenty of sharpshooters to take care of the scoring and are plenty fast on the quick-breaking plays. What defense they will be using hasn't been learned this year, but it's a cinch the locals will have to make their shots count on nearly every occasion when they do break through.

Warren has been drilling heavily all week and have developed considerable more scoring punch than they recorded in their first two games, with Charley McLean and Dick Finley tossing in long and hook shots all week to develop that last season's eye while Jim Eaton is gaining better control of the ball off the boards along with Fred Beyer's improving back guard work and George Lucia's under-the-hoop shots to finish out tomorrow night's starting five.

Game time is 8:00 p. m. with a prelude at 7:00 p. m.

Does Hunters Will Be Turned Loose in County Monday With Prospects of a Record Kill

When the guns begin popping next Monday it will not be a German invasion but the "bongs" will come from rifles of the doe hunters turned loose in the woods for three days. The fenders of automobiles will be decorated with carcasses of female deer and from all indications it will have to be an unlucky hunter who doesn't get his doe. Reports from buck hunters are to the effect that there are plenty of antlerless deer and they are running in herds. Merely a matter of picking out the nicest looking one and shooting it.

The buck season has not been an overwhelming success. The hundreds of hunters that entered the woods to get a deer have mostly returned empty handed. The kill is not expected to be greatly over 250 and it may not reach that figure. This week the hunters have not been out in force and only a few deer have been seen passing through the city.

The county, however, has maintained its reputation for producing more game than other surrounding areas. The bear kill in this county was larger, too, than in surrounding counties.

Old timers are shaking their heads over the doe season avering that the kill will decrease the herd to such a state that it will be years before the animals stage a comeback. However the hunters in many instances claim that the bucks are bigger, carrying large racks and are better haired than they were before the antlerless deer season a few years ago. However, the subject is open to debate whenever a group of hunters get together.

Trapping is in full swing and there seems to be an unusually large number of muskrats in the streams about town. Up and down the river and creeks scores of traps are set and the rewards have been heavy. One fellow today told of getting five fine pelts the last week with only two traps. Fur prices are the best they have been in many years and the trappers expect to garner a good piece of money this year. Quite a few mink have been taken and weasels and skunks are also being taken in large numbers. All are bringing top prices for good pelts. Fur houses are flooding the county with circulars telling of the fur prices and the scarcity of furs is commented on. The furs that formerly came from Europe are entirely out of the picture and the Canadian furs are also scarce due to the many men in the Canadian armed forces.

Fine Scores Are Recorded In Cadet Athletic Meet

The results of the annual Novelt Athletic Meet held at the Y. M. C. A. recently reveals some of last year's records smashed. There were two meets, one for the Cadet and one for the Junior class.

FRITZIE ZIVIC HAS NO RETIREMENT PLANS

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—Retire? Why, I haven't the slightest idea of doing so," said Fritzie Zivic, 30-year-old former welter-weight champion who tackles tough Ossie Harris here Monday. The retirement rumor has been following Fritzie around all year although he has kept refuting it.

The Harris fight will be the 179th of his 13-year ring career. Zivic said he planned to start his 14th year by meeting Jake La-

motta for the fourth time Jan. 14 in Detroit.

Zivic plans to enter the navy but doesn't think he'll get his call before late January or maybe February. He is planning a match with Steve Mamakos Dec. 22 in Milwaukee. He said 1943 was his best year so far but that he expected 1944 to be better still.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—When Big Harry Boykoff went back to visit his former teammates at St. John's as a member of the West Point field artillery basketball team they forgot to put out the welcome mat. Boykoff dropped through 23 points to lead both clubs in scoring but his West Point army team succumbed by the lopsided score of 69-47.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—Gus Dorazio of Philadelphia and Nate Bolden of Chicago will be seeking their fifth consecutive victories tonight when they meet in a 10-round boxing bout at the Chicago Stadium.

Father Draft Bill Favored By Roosevelt

(From Page One) The law provides, however, that the application of this principle within the discretion of the selective service chief need not disrupt the orderly calling of men for service. The bill was approved by the president despite McNutt's assertion that it would "seriously weaken" the over-all manpower program by dividing control of military and civilian recruitments. Members of congress disagreed as to the practical effect of the legislation, but Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), a member of the conference drafting committee, estimated it would postpone the induction of some fathers for "two or three months."

Rail City In Dnieper Bend Is Captured

(From Page One) was being fought in a heavy snowstorm and that the Russians were throwing as many as six divisions and a tank brigade (perhaps 90,000 men) at single narrow sectors. The Germans said they stormed an important height in the Crimea near Kerch and were increasing pressure on the Russian beach head northeast of the port city. Although insisting that a companion beach head south of Kerch had been "annihilated" earlier in the week, broadcasts today said that Russian mercenaries still were "mopping up" and that they captured more prisoners.

Field Marshal Fritz von Manstein's combined tank, infantry and air onslaught against Russian positions northeast of Chernyakhov was checked yesterday as the Red army carved out new gains. To threaten the key enemy bases of Kirovograd and Krivoy Rog, a Russian communique said.

Brilliant defensive tactics by Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army thwarted von Manstein's attempt to crack the Soviet lines west of Kiev, Moscow said.

Allies Forge Ahead Along Italian Front

In their sweep forward the Americans also rolled into the village of Massa La Valle, due south of Rocca D'Evandro, and captured important equipment which the Germans had been unable to carry away.

The first phase of Gen. Clark's new offensive, in which supplies were carried to almost inaccessible mountain tops by mules and planes, thus was ended.

Speedy Action Is Sought For Revenue Bill

(From Page One) passed the house, to $1,922,700,000. In contrast, Secretary Morgenthau has insisted on raising present taxes by $10,500,000,000. George considers the two obvious sources for raising additional money to be corporate and individual income tax rates. At the same time, he made it clear he had not ruled out the possibility of a federal sales tax or a compulsory savings plan.

Final Stages Of Air Attacks Are Under Way

At the time he wrote (just prior to the massive November air raids on Berlin) Clifton said the air offensive already had reduced Germany's manufacturing capacity by at least 35 percent, diminished the power of the Luftwaffe and forced it into a weakening defense, and had seriously damaged German civilian morale.

With an estimated 1,800,000 persons made homeless by the air attacks, Clifton said it had become increasingly evident that German propagandists were chiefly concerned with the effect on civilian morale.

RAIL CITY IN DNIEPER BEND IS CAPTURED

Column That Smashes Into Znamenka One of Several Driving Through Crumbling Defenses

DRIVE ON KIROVOGRAD

By EDWARD D. BALL

London, Dec. 10.—(P)—The Red army has captured Znamenka, hub of a system of railroads linking the Dnieper river bend with the area south of Kiev, Premier-Marshal Josef Stalin announced today in a special order of the day. The Soviet column that smashed into the town was one of several driving through crumbling Nazi defenses in the Dnieper bend and fanning out from the Kremenchuk bridgehead.

The capture of the heavily fortified German bastion cut the last of four rail lines centering in that town and brought the weight of the Russian Dnieper bend offensive directly against Kirovograd, the next stronghold in the path of Red army forces threatening to outflank Kirovograd.

Stalin's order of the day said Znamenka had fallen after three days of fierce fighting and termed the town a "powerful strong point in the German defenses in the Kirovograd direction."

The Russians declared the great German counterattack west of Kiev in the Zhitomir and Korosten bulge has been checked after three days in which 250 German tanks and 5,000 enemy troops were destroyed. The German communiqué, however, asserted that the Nazis "gained further ground in spite of stiff enemy resistance."

The German war bulletin said (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Snake Bite Victim Is Still Dangerous

Red Bank, N. J., Dec. 10.—(P)—Hospital authorities said today the chance of recovery for 13-year-old Fred Wege, bitten in school by a deadly coral snake, was "100 per cent better" than it had been before injection of a second dose of serum at midnight, but the boy still was on the danger list.

The boy, bitten last night after school opened yesterday morning, having unopened one of two jars in which he brought a pair of the beautiful but venomous southern snakes to show his biology class.

Speeding to Red Bank by train and police automobile, Nigel Wolff, herpetologist from the Philadelphia zoo, administered a dose of cobra serum at 1:30 p. m., yesterday and the second at midnight. By this morning, the hospital said, the muscular spasms caused by the venom's attack on the nervous system had dwindled in frequency, but Wolff stood by in case a third injection should be indicated.

GREAT COMBAT FLIER IS REPORTED MISSING

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 10.—(P)—Navy Fighter Pilot Lt. Comdr. Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare, dubbed by President Roosevelt one of the greatest combat fliers in aviation history, is missing in action. The St. Louis ace who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for blasting five Jap bombers out of the sky lone-handed in a battle of the Coral Sea was reported by the navy to have disappeared on a flight mission, probably somewhere in the South Pacific.

Notification was received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Selma O'Hare of Phoenix, Ariz., and his wife, the former Rita Wooster of St. Louis who now lives in San Diego, Calif. O'Hare is the father of a baby girl.

Advice Is Given On Treating Influenza

Harrisburg, Dec. 10.—(P)—Appearance of influenza in the form of an acute infection of the upper respiratory tract in various sections of Pennsylvania in the last weeks was reported by Dr. A. H. Stewart, secretary of health.

Dr. Stewart, in a statement yesterday, declared "the majority of those stricken are showing recovery in from 48 to 72 hours" and added "very few deaths" have been reported.

"Public health officers and individual citizens should be on their guard against this infection which if neglected can lead to serious complications," he said. "Every one who contracts influenza or grippe should get into bed at its first sign and remain there until permitted to leave by his physician."

President Is Repudiated on Rail Pay Issue

Senate Votes 74 to 4 in Favor of 8-Cent Hourly Wage Hike

IS BITTERLY OPPOSED

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Legislation to raise the pay of 1,100,000 railroad clerks and other non-operating workers went to the house today, boosted along by an overwhelming senate vote that amounted to a repudiation of the president's stabilization directors.

Headed by Majority Leader Barkley—whose office normally makes him the administration spokesman on the floor—the senate voted 74 to 4 in favor of the 8-cent hourly wage hike late yesterday. If the house concurs the resolution will be sent to the president.

The vote came only two days after War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes attacked the proposal as inflationary, and ignored an earlier challenge from Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson.

Senator Ellender (D-La.) made a vain attempt to stave off yesterday's vote with a plea to postpone action until congress had decided what to do about food subsidies, the No. 1 White House device to hold down the retail cost of living. He argued the pay resolution, sponsored by Senator Truman (D-Mo.) was an invitation to rising living costs.

Vinson rejected the 8-cent-an-hour increase when it came before his office and recommended instead a sliding scale varying from four to ten cents an hour, depending on the individual job.

Speedy Action Is Sought For Revenue Bill

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Aiming for a speedy decision on total revenue to be raised by the new tax bill, Chairman George (D-Ga.) urged the senate finance committee today to act promptly on a series of broad amendments affecting the renegotiation of war contracts.

"By Saturday," he told reporters, "I hope we can face squarely the larger questions of how much revenue we are going to get, and whether we should stand by the house pattern or strike out for additional money."

Downward adjustments of proposed new excise and postal rates already have reduced the prospective annual yield of the bill from $2,139,300,000, its level when it (Turn to Page Thirteen)

American Sea and Air Power Blazes Challenge To Enemy Island Defenses In the Pacific

By MORRIE LANDSBERG Associated Press War Editor

American sea and air power has blazed a strong challenge to Japanese supremacy along the eastern fringe of the enemy's island defense line anchored to battered Rabaul and the Pacific fortress of Truk.

Bombardment by ships and planes came as the possible preliminary to actual invasion of the Nipponese bases that stand in the way of Allied penetration into the Philippines and The Netherlands East Indies.

Formidable forces of the Pacific fleet steamed into enemy waters to deliver the first naval bombardment of oval-shaped Nauru Island, 500 miles west of the Gilbert Islands, in the wake of aerial raids on three islands in the 800-mile long Marshall group to the north-east.

Allied planes kept up the systematic pounding of the invasion-vulnerable lower tip of New Britain, the home of Rabaul, while Australians speeded the extermination of the Japanese from the Huon peninsula of New Guinea with the capture of Wareo in the mountain jungles.

Victorious Chinese troops secured their hold on recaptured Changtun in Hunan province while fighting still raged northwest of the "rice bowl" city. The Chinese army spokesman declared the Japanese lost 15,000 killed and 25,000 wounded in the 40-day battle for Changtun.

The spokesman, Maj. Gen. C. C. Tseng, termed it the bitterest battle that war-torn China has seen since Shanghai in 1937. He praised the American 14th Air Force for its support of Chinese ground troops in the bloody fight.

The Berlin radio quoted a spokesman at Japanese headquarters in China as declaring "the situation in China has become more and more serious, and therefore is receiving greater attention."

From the same source came the assertion that American fliers in China were receiving orders "to bomb the Japanese mainland and communication between Japan and the mainland."

Carrier aircraft joined the American warships in laying down a barrage of bombs and shells on equatorial Nauru Dec. 8. It was the third time the atoll, which stands on the route to Truk, had been attacked since September. Details of the latest raid were not announced immediately.

On the previous day, Liberators of the Seventh Army Air Force raided Tarao, Mille and Jaluit in the Marshalls. At Jaluit, which is 1240 miles east of Truk, a patrol boat was sunk and a medium freighter probably sunk.

Allied planes attacked Cape Gloucester on the southwest coast of New Britain, for the ninth consecutive day, although on a lighter scale, to reduce the strength of enemy resistance to any invasion move.

Across the strait between New Britain and New Guinea, Australian ground forces that fought up a 1000-foot hillside to capture Wareo, 12 miles northwest of coastal Finschhafen, continued in pursuit of the enemy, while the Allied air arm struck at Japanese positions.

Southern Revolt Of Dems Is Cooling

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—A hot, smoldering southern revolt cooled perceptively today as Senator Byrd (D-Va.) declined to accept a proposal by Senator Smith (D-SC) that Byrd become a candidate for president on an independent Democratic ticket to be formed in the south.

At the same time, however, Byrd made it plain that southern members intend to press for the immediate replacement of Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) as chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee because of Guffey's charge last week that the southerners had joined with Republicans in an "unholy alliance" to defeat administration's service men's vote bill.

It was this Guffey charge that provoked Smith to tell the senate yesterday the south ought to organize its own political party, back Byrd as a candidate and "try to get one decent president."

DISTRICT BUSINESS UP

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(P)—Pittsburgh district business moved to a new record level last week—177.0 per cent of the 1935-39 average. A year ago it stood at 164.0. The Pittsburgh University's bureau of business research said that although steel mill operations declined slightly last week, this was offset by an advance in bituminous coal production.

PAY HIKE FOR PRINTERS

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(P)—John A. Feigel, president of Local 7 of the International Typographical Union, announced that some 300 commercial job shop printers in Pittsburgh district have been given an eight-cent-an-hour pay raise, retroactive to Feb. 17. Day workers will now receive $1.35½ an hour; night workers, $1.45.

ALLIES FORGE AHEAD ALONG ITALIAN FRONT

FIGHT IN THE CLOUDS

R. EDWARD KENNEDY Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Dec. 10.—(P)—The Fifth Army has cracked German defenses on both sides of the Via Casilina at Mignano in a bloody nine-day offensive brought to a smashing climax by American troops who seized Mt. Samucro in "the battle of the clouds". Allied headquarters announced today.

At the same time it was disclosed that Canadian, infantry and tanks, spearheading the Eighth Army along the Adriatic, were smashing forward on an eight-mile front forcing a second crossing of the Moro river.

But the yardstick of military achievement their success is one of the greatest of the Mediterranean theatre, for they have smashed in a little over a week what the enemy hoped would stand as an impenetrable line for many more months, and they have overcome terrain and fortifications substantially more difficult than those in Tunisia which stalled the Allied attack for a whole winter.

The American engagement consisted of bloody hand-to-hand fighting with the Germans in mist which hugged the top of the 3,000-foot high mountain.

The Canadians were said to be firmly established in their Moro river bridgehead, the second such foothold that Eighth Army troops have gained across the stream.

In a nine-day battle the Americans, with their British Allies, had now driven the Germans from the entire mountain mass of Camino and Maggiore in the Mignano vicinity, thereby ripping a giant hole in the enemy line blocking the road to Rome, 78 straight-line miles distant.

Falling in the Allied sweep was the last German-held village in the Mignano vicinity, Rocca D'Evandro on the northwest slope of Mt. Camino.

Whisky Situation For Christmas Is Easing

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—Reports that the Christmas whisky situation is easing a bit in the east reached the capital today as a senate committee opened public hearings in an effort to find out what's going on in the liquor business.

Investigators for the committee said they had heard a few "curb stone reports" that there is a little more liquor on some shelves in the east and speculated whether the senate's decision to investigate had jarred some hidden stocks loose.

Bradford May Be On Airplane Route

Bradford, Dec. 10.—(P)—An air mail and passenger route is scheduled for this city if an application filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday is approved, announced John E. Walker, assistant to President W. A. Patterson of United Airlines.

Here to inspect Bradford's new $1,000,000 airport and meet aviation officials, Patterson said the route would stretch 475 miles from Cleveland to New York and Newark and would include, besides Bradford, Ashtabula, O., Erie, Pa., Jamestown, Elmira and Binghamton, N. Y., and Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

He said the route would go into operation immediately upon CAB approval of the application. It would be Bradford's first regular air service. The new port here was built as an emergency landing field for the army and was turned over to the city a short time ago.

BILL OF RIGHTS DAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 10.—(P)—Pennsylvanians were called on by Governor Martin to mark the anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights next Wednesday "with renewed expressions of allegiance to the principles of Americanism and devotion to the constitution of the United States."

A. P. Correspondent Piano Accompanist

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(P)—When Irving Berlin entertained war correspondents in London recently, his piano accompanist was Franklin Banker, former Associated Press day editor in Pittsburgh.

Berlin's singing was the feature of a cocktail party the composer gave for newsmen. Banker wrote his wife.

Banker, who formerly worked in AP Bureau at Harrisburg and Newark, N. J., went abroad as a war correspondent last August.

Final Stages Of Air Attacks Under Way

Classic "Four Phases" of Strategic Bombings Are Outlined

1,800,000 ARE HOMELESS

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—The first official indication that the air offensive against Germany has passed the preliminary phases and entered on the final knockout stage preparatory to a land invasion was made public today in an army school survey report.

In the same article, Col. Ray W. Clifton of the army air forces disclosed that five divisions of infantry combat units have been formed from the Luftwaffe personnel—"an indication that Germany is getting short of aircraft" and is preparing to fight on the ground.

Clifton, an instructor at the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, discussed the classic "four phases" of strategic bombing in the survey.

Missing List Has Name Of Local Flier

Word was received here last evening that Lt. Allan M. Metzger, son of C. Emerson Metzger, of Tarentum and Warren, is reported by the War Department as missing in action. The date given is November 29 and it is believed likely the young officer was lost in the raid on Bremen on that date.

He was a grand-nephew of Mrs. Maude Stoner, 410 Fourth avenue, whose last letter came from England and was sent on from New York December 8.

Lt. Metzger has been in England since September, going from Grenier Field at Lancaster, N. H. A graduate of Utica, Pa., High School and Harrisburg Military Academy, he later attended Clar (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Substantial Gifts Are Made To Alias Santa Claus Fund

There ain't no need o' moanin' There never was no use: 'Cause when I start o' groanin' Long comes the Loyal Moose.

Old Alias Santa Claus always has something up his sleeve that sorta startles a fellow but never before did he start making rhymes out of the fact that he was tickled pink. Why, the old fellow fairly beamed as he waved the check he got from the Order of Moose and he grinned and gurgled like a baby with one of those no colic bottles. It was a generous gift and caused Old Alias to surmise that perhaps some of the other clubs about the town would be moved to emulate the Moose and peel off a goodly chunk from their bank rolls. It's possible.

And Allan Gibson and W. T. Corbett, who keep an eye on the funds of the Salvage Committee, are engaged in an audit of their books in an effort to see just what the Salvage Committee can do for the fund. They gave a generous gift last year and it just wouldn't surprise anyone if tomorrow they announced that again they would do some more Salvage Work and help salvage some happiness for a bundle of kiddies and grownups of the town. And is Old Alias waitin'?

Just because some organizations are kicking in with substantial checks is no reason why the little donations should cease. You know how the little boy saved the dime by sticking his finger in the hole? Well, a little in the right place will help a lot, so keep the dollar bills or even the half-dollar pieces coming in. Every little bit added to what Alias Santa Claus has will make just a little bit more.

Executive Flies To Famous Island On Huge C-54 Douglas

Illuminated Scroll Is Presented on Behalf of American People With Promise That U. S. Will Stand Staunchly With British

HAS ESCORT OF LIGHTNINGS AND SPITFIRES

By the Associated Press

Valletta, Malta, Dec. 10.—Traveling by plane, President Roosevelt visited this bomb-marked British Mediterranean base on Wednesday, presented its people an illuminated scroll on behalf of the American people, and declared the United States would stand staunchly with the British Empire and other Allies after the war to make "it a victory worthwhile."

En route from the series of epic conferences in which he and Prime Minister Churchill engaged in the Middle East, the president arrived in a huge C-54 Douglas four-engine troop transport with an escort of 20 Lightning and Spitfire fighters.

The scroll, which eventually will be cast in bronze and placed in Valletta's main square, saluted Malta and its defenders for "valorous service far above and beyond the call of duty" during the dark period while Axis aircraft kept the island under a virtual constant alert.

The president's plane touched on the world's most bombed airfield at 9:50 a. m. Wednesday, after appearing over the island out of a brilliant blue, cloud-flecked sky. The unprecedented visit followed one by Prime Minister Churchill, who had called at Malta en route to the Cairo conferences.

A guard of honor, including an RAF unit, 50 British marines, 50 Royal Navy men, and 100 United States and Maltese troops, lined up on the airfield with a royal artillery band to welcome Mr. Roosevelt, first president of the United States ever to visit the island.

First to greet the president was Field Marshal Lord Gort, commander-in-chief of Malta.

With Lord Gort, the president stepped into a jeep named "Husky" which belongs to Air Vice Marshal Park and is one of three presented to Gort by Gen. Eisenhower when Sicily was invaded.

As the jeep came to a stop in front of the guard of honor, the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner". The president took the salute and the stars and stripes broke out on the mast behind the guard.

Addressing himself to Field Marshal Gort, the troops and the people of Malta, President Roosevelt said:

"Nearly a year ago the prime minister and I were at Casablanca shortly after the landings by British and American troops in North Africa, and at that time I told the prime minister some day we would once more control the whole Mediterranean and then I would go to Malta.

"For many months I have wanted on behalf of the American people to pay some little tribute to this island and to all the people, both civil and military, who during three years have contributed so much to democracy, not just here but all over the civilized world.

"So at last I have been able to come. At last I have been able to see something of this historic land and I wish I could stay, but I have many things to do."

After his talk, the president read from the scroll in a hand (Turn to Page Thirteen)

FATHER DRAFT BILL FAVORED BY ROOSEVELT

White House Announcement Raises Question as to Whether Paul McNutt May Resign Position

ACTION FAR-REACHING

Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—President Roosevelt has approved the father draft bill, designed to delay induction of pre-war fathers into the armed services.

The action was announced by the White House today. The place at which the chief executive acted was not disclosed.

The president had been urged by War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt to veto the legislation. The president's approval raised a question as to whether McNutt would resign his position.

The legislation removes from McNutt authority over administration of the Selective Service system.

The authority, vested in Major General Lewis B. Hershey, the Selective Service Director, came under McNutt's directives previously.

How extensively the act will delay the induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers remains to be seen, officials said. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Axis Propaganda Sinks Wisconsin

London, Dec. 10.—(P)—Tokyo propagandists are now sinking American battleships as fast as they are launched and months before they are ready to put to sea. The Berlin radio, quoting a Tokyo report, soberly announced today the sinking of the 45,000-ton U. S. S. Wisconsin "in one of the biggest sea battles off Bougainville."

The superb battleship Wisconsin was launched only three days ago at Philadelphia on the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—(P)—The Fourth Naval District public relations office expressed regret today that it did not receive the news of the "sinking" of the battleship Wisconsin, reported by the Tokyo and Berlin radios, in time to publish it in the Navy and Beacon, which came off the press earlier in the morning.

Sylvania, Inc., Has Helpful Savings Plan

Members of the Savings and Retirement Plan of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., will benefit from a profits distribution equaling approximately 100 per cent of their own contributions into the Savings and Retirement fund at the end of the year, it was announced by John S. Learoyd, chairman of the Savings and Retirement committee.

Under the Sylvania plan, all employees with three years' service or more are eligible to participate in the Savings and Retirement program by contributing 2 per cent of their pay. Persons hired between the ages of thirty-five and forty need only two years for eligibility, those hired at forty and over require only one year. Supplementing the employee's contribution the company pays into the fund 4% of its net income before federal taxes, an amount which for the year 1943 will roughly equal the total member contributions. The company also makes an additional fixed contribution to the fund equal to one-half of the employee's contribution.

At the present time there are over 2,600 employees of the company who are members of the Savings and Retirement Plan. Next year a large number of new employees will complete the required waiting period and become eligible to join the plan.

Tony Pastor, who brings his popular dance band to Library Theatre on Tuesday afternoon and evening was a member of one of the first orchestras to broadcast on radio. This was the Worthy Hills Orchestra from the Club of that name, via Station WTIC Hartford, Conn.

Tony's vocal interpretations have been a feature on phonograph records with several bands—on Columbia discs with Joe Venuti, an Brunswick platters with Artie Shaw's String Band and earlier on Bluebird waxings with the famous Shaw swing band.

Now with his famous orchestra he is featured on the Bluebird label for RCA Victor. His band, although it is similar to Shaw's in instrumentation and while he plays many original Shaw arrangements, presents a "pastorized" style of swing that is Pure Pastor.

During recent broadcasting over NBC it has been said he had the finest band on NBC, due to his fine arrangements, outstanding entertainment features and the fine musicianship of the band—he knew at all times what was needed for fine radio programs was one of the things that gained for him the title of "The Band of 1942."

Father Is Shot By Son When Rifle Goes Off

Reports from the hospital today as to the condition of Ed Werlin, 238 West Fourth street, Erie, are that he is resting comfortably after being treated for a gun shot wound. The wound was in the calf of the leg and the bullet came from a .32 calibre gun. The bullet did not tear the flesh and no trouble is expected from it and Mr. Werlin may be allowed to go home today.

Werlin was shot while in the woods above the Outing Club. With his twin sons he was on his way to some point near Bradford. The boys were 14 years of age and all of the party had brought their guns with them on the trip. While driving on the Kinzua road the party spotted some deer among which was a buck. Parking the car along the roadside, Mr. Werlin and son, William, 14, took their guns and entered the woods. They had only traveled a short distance when a twig caught in the trigger of the gun and it was discharged. The bullet entered his father's leg.

One of the party made his way to the service station at the junction of the Sheffield-Kinzua road and called for an ambulance. The Lutz car responded. Police accompanied the ambulance through the traffic to the hospital and a quick run was made.

Registration Reminder For All Landlords

Jamestown area landlords must register all rental accommodations. Frederick C. Backus, Buffalo OPA Acting District Rent Executive, said today in announcing that registration forms are available at OPA Rent Headquarters in Jamestown, and also at the Warren and Dunkirk rationing boards.

Landlords must appear personally or have their agents appear when completing registration papers. Backus declared, adding that unless landlords adhere to rental regulations they are apt to find themselves in serious trouble for charging more than the rent of March 1, 1942. A treble damage action may be brought against landlords exceeding the maximum rent.

Backus also pointed out that when a landlord has a new tenant he must notify the area office of the change of tenancy. This notification must be made on OPA form D-25 which applicants may secure by calling in or writing to rental headquarters. "All Jamestown Area landlords must adhere to these regulations," the Rent Executive stated, adding "that there is no excuse for ignorance of the law and all necessary regulation papers may be obtained by writing to any rental office." Under rent regulations a landlord is any person who accepts rent for shelter of human beings. This includes any tenant who sublets a part of his rental accommodations to a sub-tenant, even though the entire premises were formerly registered by the owner.

A rental accommodation which is offered for rent for the first time after October 1, 1942 (the original registration period) is required to be registered within 30 days of renting. The landlord can set his own maximum legal rent but this is subject to review by the OPA and may be reduced if found to be higher than the rent for comparable accommodations as of March 1, 1942.

Backus pointed out that because of Amendment No. 9 to the Regulations, effective October 1, 1943, if the landlord fails to file a registration statement within 30 days, the rent received for any rental period commencing on or after the date of the first renting of October 1, 1943, whichever is later, shall be subject to refund to the tenant of any amount in excess of the maximum rent which may later be fixed by OPA review.

Auto Stolen; Youths Sought By Patrolmen

What looks like the first real automobile theft since the car of Ab Sandeen, of Union street, was taken some time ago, took place yesterday afternoon when a Ford V8 coupe was taken from in front of a store on Pennsylvania avenue, east. Mrs. Arthur Morine, 204 Park street, had driven to the store and was doing some shopping. When she emerged her car was gone.

Police were notified and officers were sent out. Thinking perhaps the car had been parked some place after boys had enjoyed a ride the cruiser car covered the city to no avail. While the officers were cruising about the city they learned that two boys, aged about 15 or 16, had been in the store when Mrs. Morine was in there. The boys bought some cookies and left before Mrs. Morine. Both boys were dark complected and one wore an overcoat and cap and the other a jacket and cap.

Night men gave much of their time to the search for the car but as yet it has not been located.

WHAT THE SOLDIER BOY ASKS

Readers, a little in doubt as to just what boys in the Armed Services desire most for Christmas, may secure a few timely and very helpful suggestions from the following, reprinted from the Camp Lee Traveller, December 23, 1942:

Somewhere Away From Home,
December, 1942

Dear Folks:

I don't want nuts and candy and cookies and cakes this Christmas. I don't want pen and pencil sets, toilet article kits, radios, cigarettes, cigarette lighters, stationery, socks, sweaters, scarfs or ties.

I am asking for something really important this Christmas, something which means more to me than the most glittering, shiny-new and expensive present I have ever received on any previous Christmas morn, something you don't have to wrap in red and green and put in the earliest mail. Something that costs so little.

I want the privilege of seeing Tom, Curtis and Joe and answering their greetings as I meet them on the street.

I want to ease down to a leisurely meal with friends or family and talk about yesterday's football game or tomorrow's election.

I want the chance to work a little harder at my business and worry about honest competition, new shelves and paint.

I want a garden and grass and shrubbery and the opportunity to see the first green speck appear.

I want to denounce practices and policies I don't like and boost those I do.

I want to go with my pals to see a high school play, a movie or a county fair.

I want to see the sparkle of young Nicholas Popovich's eyes and answer his eager question.

I want to respect aged Abraham Isaacson's vitality and admire his mature decisions.

I want to be with my widowed mother and quiet her needless fears.

I want to go to church to worship and pray just as I please.

But I am not going to ask for those things right now. For there is something far bigger to think of. Listen.

Don't let them buy candy, let them buy bonds. It means another bullet for Berlin.

Don't let them spend for sentimental things, let them spend for stamps. It means another swipe at Schickelgruber.

In the meantime, I shall not lose faith in my convictions nor will I tarry at my task, God willing.

Now, what more could I ask?

"PRIMER ON ELECTRONICS"

In view of the fact that the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., recently opened a branch plant in Warren and the publicity that it has received, it is interesting to note that the answer to the reading public's prayer, "A Primer of Electronics," written in simple, everyday language that laymen can understand, is shortly to make its appearance.

Don P. Caverly, commercial engineer with the company, is the author; McGraw-Hill is the publisher; the book is scheduled for pre-Christmas publication.

With the glamor-word "electronics" on everybody's tongue these days, the new book which styles itself a primer and omits complex technicalities, seems destined to fill a widespread need.

An old-fashioned tallow candle, one of man's early attempts at illumination, is actually an electronic device under a loose definition of the science, Caverly declares in his book. Then, to keep from including too broad a field, he limits himself to discussing those devices which have been made for the exclusive purpose of making use of electron emission, and this is the material covered in the book.

A brief reading of early pages of the manuscript discloses the secret of Caverly's success in describing the science of electronics in words that can be understood by almost anyone who can read any primer. He compares the flow of electricity to the flow of water in a pipe, and time and time again he uses the water-electricity comparison, to the great joy of non-scientist readers.

Rapidly approaching the longest nights of the year, one glances around at eight o'clock these mornings to see street lights still on, store windows lighted up and lights on in homes all over the community, a situation which raises the question anew—of what value is daylight saving time during the winter months?

You will still get four pennies per pound for fats salvaged from your kitchen when the new two-points per pound payment plan starts Monday. The War Production Board needs double the amount of fats now being collected. Start saving now.

Unless the three-day open season on doe which opens Monday proves more successful than that for bucks it looks like a lot of venison suppers planned by clubs and lodges in the community will have to be called off, or another meat substituted.

Engineers of the D.A.V. and P. railroad have been instructed to run slowly on a section of track near Star Brick. It is feared that slides will take place which would block the tracks and cause much trouble.

Traffic on the Warren-James-town street railway was held up for some time last evening due to trouble with the generator at the Stoneham Power station.

A sign post has been erected at the road junction in Sheffield showing the direction and distances from Sheffield to Kane, Warren and other towns in this section.

It is not often at this season of the year that the hills are free from snow but this year the hills are clear and the roads are the best they have been in many years at this season.

While Donald Rupert and Edward Littlefield, of Porkey were out by the old Clugh mill yesterday they spied a big black bear. Neither had a gun and they were forced to let the big fellow get away.

In 1933
The Men's Brotherhood of the Lutheran church last evening served a sauerkraut supper and it was one of the most successful they have ever held. There was a big crowd in attendance and the menu was one that would have reflected credit of Chef Rector.

Licenses were received here today for three licensed places, the Exchange Hotel, Pete McCabe's Restaurant and the Warren Elk's Club. As soon as they arrived by special delivery steps were taken to get stocks of liquor on hand and by tomorrow serving should begin.

Fire starting shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon badly damaged the home of A. G. Eldred, of Fifty avenue. The fire started in the basement and spread rapidly. Everything in the house was either soaked by water or damaged by smoke. The loss is said to be covered by insurance.

Much interest is being roused in Corydon by the announcement that at the next meeting of the Corydon Grange the pageant "The Silver Star" will be presented by a group under the direction of the lecturer.

Washington in Wartime

(Second of Two Articles)
By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam isn't half as far along in making post-war plans for his employees as most of the big industrialists although he employs far more than any of them (about 3,100,000).

Some steps have been taken, just recently, when it became apparent that the government could not honestly argue legislation forcing or even urging business to take steps it had not already taken itself.

If the Budget Bureau hasn't asked every agency, it soon will demand from them all an outline of their plans for reconversion to peacetime.

At the White House, "assistant president" James F. Byrnes has an organization at work coordinating the conversion plans into an over-all policy. Some weeks ago, Byrnes said that every agency should assign at least one competent person to working out a program for conversion. This, in some instances, might consist of liquidation or a change of duties.

A FEW days later, the President publicly requested Byrnes to establish a coordinating unit. It is considered certain here now that Bernard M. Baruch will have considerable to say about this when he makes his over-all report on conversion and demobilization. But as in so many instances, the question of jurisdiction is still up in the air and being fought out behind the scenes. The Budget Bureau is in the picture. So is the War Manpower Commission, and various agencies within it. The Veterans Administration would like to speak for veterans returning to government jobs. Selective Service feels that it is the logical agency to reverse the order of the draft.

More important than any of these, so far as government employees are concerned, is the Civil Service Commission. It is reportedly making an over-all study of firing and rehiring, as well as how to cushion unemployment for the tens of thousands of temporary and emergency federal workers.

These so-called "temporaries" and "war service employees" will have to be the first to go. Some will have accumulated leave which will carry them for a few weeks while they are searching for new jobs, but in most instances it will be no more than enough to pay the fare home.

IT LOOKS like a job for Congress and it has been rumored that Civil Service, probably with administration backing, will lay before the legislators some plan to put the federal war workers at least on the same basis as those in private enterprises.

It should be pointed out that this isn't at all inconsistent with facts outlined in the previous article: that there may be very little net decline in government civilian employment for years after peace comes. There will be a tremendous turnover, as veterans return and temporary war workers seek to get out or are forced out without ratings for reinstatement in other agencies. All in all, it's a messy state of affairs and isn't making the war workers any happier or contributing to government efficiency in the war effort.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — New names have been popping out in the movie news lately, names the youngest generation of movie fans probably never heard. This then is for that youngest generation—their "epics." This Griffith is here today too, but Hollywood hasn't had a job for him. Dorothy Gish came to play the mother role in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Here's a handsome chap named Nils Asther. Fifteen, sixteen years ago he was a romantic rage. Swedish-born, he played opposite a Swedish siren named Greta Garbo, of whom you may have heard unless you're very young. Asther's accent put him off the screen when the screen began to talk, and he went to the stage, got rid of much of it, and came back. You'll see him starred in "The Man in Half Moon Street."

MAE WEST. Ten years ago she made the nation titter with her burlesques on the grand passion. Off the screen for several years, she's back in "The Heat's On," but if you're very young, well...

Mildred Harris. She was the first wife of a pioneer movie comic named Charles Chaplin, who still rates headlines when he marries. She's in "The Story of Dr. Wassell," not starred, but in it.

Pola Negri. A wow girl of the 1920's, European actress Pola made her come-back as a comedienne in "Hi Diddle Diddle" and still shows plenty of spirit if not so much wow.

Shirley Temple. She was your big sister can tell you—the baby doll of the last decade. She's a big girl now, fifteen, and she's fast getting glamour. She's in the big time again in "Since You Went Away."

Air Express Use Growing In This District

Agent Gilmore, of the Railway Express Company reports that plenty of business is passing through the local office and that the volume is growing by leaps and bounds. Especially gratifying to Mr. Gilmore is the way the air express business is growing. During the past month it showed an increase of $86.7 over that of last year. In all there were 3,236 pounds of air express handled. The heaviest package weighed 222 pounds and the lightest, three-fourths of a pound.

Rates for air express are gradually being lowered as the volume grows and it is interesting to note that a two-pound package can be sent to Oklahoma for $1.40. In addition the package is insured for $50 and is given special delivery on its arrival. The rate to the Pacific coast is $1.92 for two pounds which is but little over parcel post. Twenty-five pounds can be sent to Pittsburgh for $2. Where airports are not available, the express is sent to the nearest airfield and then forwarded by rail. This expedites the service.

The speed of the air express is shown by the fact that packages for Christmas delivery will be accepted until December 20.

Rail express also mounting in volume. Much machinery and machine parts are being shipped for the war effort and speed is essential. The service to Pittsburgh and all express for this city is placed in a special car which leaves Pittsburgh at 10:20 at night and it comes to Corry. There the express which has arrived over the Erie railroad is loaded and the car arrives in Warren at 8:20. This is building up a large amount of business in Pittsburgh from Warren due to the excellent service.

Every effort is being made to facilitate the handling of Christmas packages and every person who desires to ship by express for the Christmas season is urged to get their packages moving.

CHRISTMAS DON'T'S

DON'T set the tree on fire. It isn't very bright. To count on worn-out wire. For a merry Christmas light.

DON'T catch influenza. Warbling carols in the snow. You may sing a mean cadenza. But your tonsils get the woe.

DON'T try to do your shopping in a mad rush Christmas eve. It only means more swapping. And an after-Christmas peeve.

DON'T stuff yourself on turkey, Cranberry sauce and such. You will feel much less murky. If you don't eat too much.

DON'T fall off the ladder. While hanging mistletoe. Christmas will be gladder. Without a broken toe.

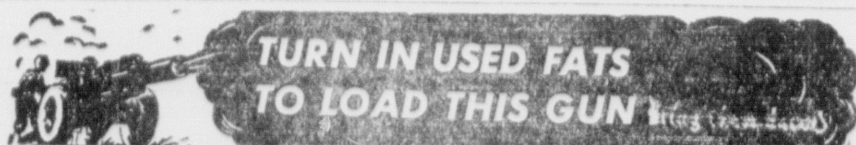

DON'T imbibe too freely. Of the cup of Christmas cheer. Be careful and you'll really live to see another year.

PATRIOTIC AND PRACTICAL

America's No. 1 Sweetheart, Mary Pickford, has an extra slice of bacon with her eggs these mornings. The Government is now compensating patriotic women like Mary, with two brown ration points for every pound of salvaged fat. Miss Pickford has been saving inedible fat for the Government since she first learned that used household fat was desperately needed to produce vital products and by-products used in the manufacture of munitions and life-saving military medicinals.

Ellis Island Work Is Ably Presented For DAR Members

The annual Christmas party of General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held in the YWCA parlors Thursday afternoon, opening with the traditional Yuletide carols led by Mrs. C. P. DeLong and accompanied by Mrs. Warren R. Carlin. A beautiful tree, the gift of Mrs. Clarence Ricker and groups of lighted tapers provided the holiday setting.

The chaplain, Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp, opened the devotion with the Christmas story from Luke 2 and, after prayer, Mrs. DeLong sang softly Gruber's "Silent Night".

The regent, Mrs. Leon Laskaris, conducted a brief business session, speaking of the chapter's interest in the Ellis Island work, and presented Mrs. Carlin, who, assisted by Mrs. Ricker, Miss Harriet Eaton and Mrs. Fred A. Schuler, gave a very vivid portrayal of occupational therapy work done in the marine hospital at that place. The DAR provides all the materials for this work and the Christmas offering goes for this purpose. Films were shown concerning the work and articles of much interest were read.

The program concluded with two delightful readings, "Two Birthdays" and "The Night After Christmas", by Mrs. Jessie Swain Girling.

Mrs. Fred Schuler and her committee served the Christmas tea, with Mrs. Thomas L. Kane, of Kane, presiding at a tea table centered with a large candelabra surrounded by greens.

Another Hit For Players' Opinion At Opening Night

Judged as an all around performance, the Warren Players' presentation of Harry Segalla's "Heavy on Can Wait" is one of their best in recent years. Moving at a swift pace, nicely timed for laughs of which there are plenty, the play has some of the eerie quality of a former presentation, "Outward Bound" but none of the morbidity.

Evidences of amateurishness are at a minimum. The large cast shows plainly the effects of professional direction and much credit must be given Betty Rice and Betty Field for their masterful job.

Acting honors, if they can be justifiably awarded, go to Robert Wilder, making his first appearance with the club; Charles Selin, as the very patient but thorough Mr. Jordan; Nelson Johnson, cast again as the villain of the piece; and Byron Knapp, the voluble but hard-headed fight manager.

Because of tonight's repeat performance, to be given at the Women's Club at 8:30, much cannot be said about the story, but those who plan to attend are in for a very enjoyable evening.

Faintings At Sheffield Are Real Mystery

County Health authorities are investigating a most peculiar condition that has arisen at Sheffield. One evening this week three children in the theater fainted. A physician was called and after investigation it was thought that gas from an open stove had affected the children. They came out of the faint and have had no ill effects.

However on the day following the fainting of the children in the theater three or four others, not all of whom had been at the theater, fainted in school. They were soon revived. Then in another part of the town a woman who had neither been at the theater or the school fainted.

In each case similar symptoms were noted. A fainting attack and no ill effects following revival. The matter is causing much comment in Sheffield and the authorities will check into the case with the Sheffield physicians and endeavor to ascertain if possible what has taken place.

Tuberculosis Society Wins High Praise

The following is an excerpt from a recent letter from Dr. Walter L. Hubert of New York Memorial Hospital, Cassadaga, N. Y., who has examined all the x-rays taken in the spring tuberculosis survey: "I wish to congratulate you on your accomplishments of your survey during 1943. Your tuberculosis survey of industrial employees, high school students in Warren County was an up to date step in the results fully justify increased case-finding efforts along same lines in 1944. Tuberculosis is communicable, inherited, and in order to control it effectively, those who are carrying the disease must be isolated. The best way to discover pulmonary tuberculosis, and thereby identify 'spreaders', is the chest x-ray examination of the chest. Therefore, the more the number x-rayed, particularly those who have been exposed to the disease, the better will be your results in the control of tuberculosis. For the information of those who may have refused an examination I would like to add two important reasons why they should be x-rayed: First—Even the most healthy appearing person may have pulmonary tuberculosis. Second—Those most endangered by tuberculosis are their own folks and their intimate associates. I wish you continued success during 1944." The success of the current tuberculosis survey will govern the extent of Dr. Rathbun's wish for the coming year.

Stamp News

With the approval of the Czechoslovakian government in London, the Czechoslovak Philatelic Society has issued stamps commemorating the 25th anniversary of the establishment of the Czech republic to be used after the country is liberated. The stamp honors the republic's three founders, Dr. Eduard Benes, T. G. Masaryk and General R. Stefanik. The others are emblems to the four lands of the republic—Bohemia, Slovakia, Moravia and Ruthenia. The first issue of 25,000 is already in heavy demand. Copies of the stamps were displayed throughout most of November at the Czechoslovak Institute in London.

Covers franked with stamps issued by Surinam to commemorate the birth in Canada last January of Princess Margriet of the Netherlands are now arriving in this country. Four stamps make up the set and a similar set was also issued by Surinam. Portraying the royal family with Queen Wilhelmina holding the infant Princess on her lap, Prince Bernhard and Princess Juliana and their other children, Princesses Beatrix and Irene, the values and colors of the stamps are: 2½-cent orange; 7½-cent rose; 15-cent gray and 25-cent blue.

The Office of Censorship, Philatelic Control Unit, has re-emphasized to collectors that a philatelic export permit must be obtained to send stamps to any foreign country, whether as a gift or a commercial transaction. Stamps sent to England, Scotland, Wales or the United Kingdom require an import license from the Board of Trade of London. Philatelic Export permits may be obtained from the Office of Censorship at 252 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

Cuba has issued three stamps designed to raise funds for the relief of employees of its post office department. Values and colors are: 1c, green; 3c, vermillion and blue.

Colombia has issued a 15c blue postage stamp bearing the portrait of General Francisco Paula Santander. . . . The French Committee of National Liberation has issued a semipostal to raise money for aid of combatants and patriots. Having a value of 9 francs plus 4½, the stamp portrays a female figure, apparently representing French sessions in Africa, offering a cord to La Belle France. In the background is an outline map of the northwestern coast of France. —George A. Scott

Chapter 23

PETE worried all night about the problem of Kitty, but he could figure no way out of his dilemma. Then, suddenly, miraculously, the solution came to him, just before dawn.

What a fool he had been. It was in the back of his mind, had been there for months and he hadn't been able to see it.

Why, all he had to do was to recommend that Kitty be made Supervisor of a new Department called "Blue-print Interpretation." It was a natural. The Company was a sucker for high-sounding titles and fancy departmental names.

As he pieced incidents together he realized he had on many occasions known that workers in the shop from foreman down had been sending or taking prints to Kitty so that she could locate the dimensions on them. And why, not? Wasn't she a whiz at solving puzzles of all kinds?

Of course, she was. It was her pet hobby. She had almost made a study of these things.

Two hours later, he walked into the plant with heart singing, his report on the paint shop in his hand. He went into the front office and to Art Melvin's desk. He gave the report to Melvin.

"Sit down, Pete," Melvin said, and when Pete was seated, "The F. B. I. and A. A. F. Intelligence have completed their investigation, and since you were innocently accused at one time, I have their permission to give you some of the results of the investigation."

"Fine," Pete said. "I'd like to know who was at the bottom of the troubles we have been having."

"First of all, Pete," Melvin went on, "I want to clear the bad impression you had of our plant."

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, I heard about that talk you made the other night to the second shift, wherein you spoke of the 'red-tape' and overall inefficiency of the plant. In my position here, I knew nothing of these conditions, especially since I left plant matters entirely in the hands of the general manager whom I trusted... unfortunately, it was a surprise to me to find that you were the head of a ring of saboteurs who carried on their activities almost from the moment we entered the War."

"Kahl deliberately fostered the 'red-tape' and encouraged any and all types of inefficiency to retard production. He directed the Purchasing department to buy just enough screws and other small but vital parts for the ships, with no spares. He trained our engineers to conceal or hide the dimensions of the prints, explaining that if the prints fell into enemy hands, they would be worthless."

For a moment Pete's heart fell. If blueprint troubles were cleared up, the job he had planned for Kitty would slip. But his spirit rose again at Melvin's next statement.

"Unfortunately, engineers are hard to get these days, and our men having been trained to draw prints in this manner, well now, to have them change their methods suddenly. Besides, we have hundreds of prints in use on this ship and we couldn't very well change them all."

"You needn't worry about the prints," Melvin said. "Pete solved that problem in this report." He touched the envelope

Chapter 24

PETE had no time in seeing Kitty. "I've found out things," he said with a grin. "But not everything, so start talking."

So he told him all about it. "My boss in Washington, who is assistant to the chief of the F. B. I., called me into his office. I thought that he was going to give me a routine letter, but this time he was far more serious than ever before. He explained the set-up at the Melvin plant. Due to the importance of the 'Melvin Menace,' he figured there might be sabotage. But all of his men were busy on special assignments. He asked me if I would be willing to go to the open end and work with the Company detective."

"And that," Pete interrupted, "was why you were so thick with Brackmyde?"

"Yes. You see my work in the plant wasn't official with respect to the F. B. I., yet my boss felt I would be useful, since no one would suspect a dumb worker."

"Not exactly. I was so busy looking out for trouble that I wasn't as

DID SHE KILL THE PRINCE?

Beautiful Jocelyn D'Arcy was hired by the eminent criminologist, Lee Mappin, to attract Prince Alexis Lenkoran, a mysterious and handsome Russian nobleman. Jocelyn was to learn as much as she could about Lenkoran because Mappin was sure he was a phony. Lenkoran had a way with women—a dangerous way. But one night he was shot. He died in Jocelyn's arms, setting off one of the corkiest mysteries of the year. This smashing new serial starts soon in this newspaper.

HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION NEWS

Thelma Prendergast

EXAMINE HOME CANNED FOODS FOR SPOILAGE

No homemaker expects her canned foods to spoil but it's always well to check for spoilage before using a canned fruit or vegetable, reminds Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, Home Economics Ext. Rep., Warren county.

Mold may develop on top of fruit. When mold is present in small amounts, it may be removed from the surface of the fruit and the rest of the food may be eaten with safety. Fruit may darken if it is not covered with syrup or if the jars were not covered with water during the processing. This darkening affects only the appearance and not the taste of the fruit.

There may be a starchy sediment at the bottom of some jars of vegetables. This may be the result of using table salt which contains a starch to prevent caking or by using vegetables that are over-mature so that starch cooks out of them.

All jars of non-acid vegetables that were processed in the boiling water bath must be opened and the contents put into a pan and boiled 10 minutes before tasting, say extension nutritionists of the Pennsylvania State College. This boiling is necessary to check against any form of spoilage. When the jar is opened, some spoilage may be detected by an outburst of gas, or a bad odor, or a cloudy liquid, or a mushy appearance of the food. However, other forms of spoilage, such as flat sour, may not show up until the food is heated. If botulism is present, boiling will kill the toxins produced by the bacteria spores.

Although boiling 10 minutes before tasting is recommended for all non-acid vegetables processed in the boiling water bath, some homemakers prefer to boil those processed in the pressure cooker.

Flat sour is one form of spoilage that boiling does not affect, states Mrs. Prendergast. The sour taste remains after boiling and the food is not suitable for eating because of the sour flavor.

When vegetables are to be served cold or in a salad, heat them 10 minutes, then cool, and they are ready to use.

The colored deposit which sometimes may be found on the underside of metal lids is in no way harmful, providing the contents of the jar show no signs of spoilage.

When Warren's Blue and White cagers line up against the Jamestown Red and Green tonight at 8:00 it will be reminiscent of the last two battles they've had, both of which the Dragons won by a close count.
Fulton Johnson, enormous center for the hilltoppers, caused the locals no end of trouble in last year's games and he'll be in there tonight to take over the jump duties with that memorable occasion in mind. He was well taken care of in the first clash on the Red and Green hardwood when Dean Nelson and Jimmy Urbanski gang-up on him to overcome his control of the bankboards. But the question this year is whether the locals have two men experienced enough to handle his gigantic proportions. What the Dragons have to do about it, controlling him will be a major factor as to whether the Dragons win or lose tonight.

Does Hunters Will Be Turned Loose in County Monday With Prospects of a Record Kill

When the guns begin popping next Monday, it will not be a German invasion but the "bongs" will come from rifles of the doe hunters turned loose in the woods for three days. The fenders of automobiles will be decorated with carcasses of female deer and from all indications it will have to be an unlucky hunter who doesn't get his doe. Reports from buck hunters are to the effect that there are plenty of antlerless deer and they are running in herds. Merely a matter of picking out the most looking one and shooting it.

The buck season has not been as overwhelming success. The hundreds of hunters that entered the woods to get a deer have mostly returned empty handed. The kill is not expected to be greatly over 250 and it may not reach that figure. This week the hunters have not been out in force and only a few wider have been seen passing through the city. The county, however, has maintained its reputation for producing more game than other surroundings. The bear kill in this county was large, too, than in surrounding counties.
Old timers are shaking their heads over the doe season avering that the kill will decrease the herd

FRITZIE ZIVIC HAS NO RETIREMENT PLANS

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10.—(P)—Retire? Why, I haven't the slightest idea of doing so," said Fritzie Zivic, 30-year-old former welter-weight champion who tackles tough Ossie Harris here Monday.
The retirement rumor has been following Fritzie around all year although he has kept refuting it. The Harris fight will be the 17th of his 13-year ring career. Zivic said he planned to start his 14th year by meeting Jake La-

motta for the fourth time Jan. 14 in Detroit.
Zivic plans to enter the navy but doesn't think he'll get his call before late January or maybe February. He is planning a match with Steve Maniakos Dec. 22 in Milwaukee. He said 1943 was his best year so far but that he expected 1944 to be better still.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Dec. 10.—(P)—When Big Harry Boykoff went back to visit his former teammates at St. John's as a member of the West Point field artillery basketball team they forgot to put out the welcome mat. Boykoff dropped through 23 points to lead both clubs in scoring but his West Point army team succumbed by the lopsided score of 69-47.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—(P)—Gus Dorazio of Philadelphia and Nate Bolden of Chicago will be seeking their fifth consecutive victories tonight when they meet in a 10-round boxing bout at the Chicago Stadium.

Father Draft Bill Favored by Roosevelt

(From Page One) The law provides, however, that the application of this principle within the discretion of the selective service chief need not disrupt the orderly calling of men for service.

The bill was approved by the president despite McNutt's assertion that it would "seriously weaken" the over-all manpower program by dividing control of military and civilian recruitments.

Members of congress disagreed as to the practical effect of the legislation, but Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), a member of the conference drafting committee, estimated it would postpone the induction of some fathers for "two or three months."

Rail City in Dnieper Bend Is Captured

(From Page One) was being fought in a heavy snowstorm and that the Russians were throwing as many as six divisions and a tank brigade (perhaps 90,000 men) at single narrow sectors.

The Germans said they stormed an important height in the Crimea near Kerch and were increasing pressure on the Russian beach head northeast of the port city. Although insisting that a companion beach head south of Kerch had been "annihilated" earlier in the week, broadcasts today said that Rumanian mercenaries still were "mopping up" and that they captured more prisoners.

Field Marshal Fritz von Mannstein's combined tank, infantry and air onslaught against Russian positions northeast of Chernyakhov was checked yesterday as the Red army carved out new gains. To threaten the key enemy bases of Kirovograd and Krivoriog, a Russian communique said.

Brilliant defensive tactics by Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army thwarted von Mannstein's attempt to crack the Soviet lines west of Kiev, Moscow said.

Allies Forge Ahead Along Italian Front

(From Page One) the entire eastern and southern bank of the Garigliano river from Rocca D'Evandro to its mouth, a distance of 14 air-line miles.

In their sweep forward the Americans also rolled into the village of Rocca D'Evandro, and captured important equipment which the Germans had been unable to carry away.

The first phase of Gen. Clark's new offensive, in which supplies were carried to almost inaccessible mountain tops by mules and planes, thus was ended.

Speedy Action Is Sought For Revenue Bill

(From Page One) passed the house, to $1,922,700,000. In contrast, Secretary Morgenthau has insisted on raising present taxes by $1,500,000,000.

George considers the two obvious sources for raising additional money to be corporate and individual income tax rates. At the same time, he made it clear he had not ruled out the possibility of a federal sales tax or a compulsory savings plan.

Final Stages Of Air Attacks Are Under Way

(From Page One) the third phase now," he said, "the fourth phase being that in which 'the air will paralyze the production and movement of enemy war supplies and support the ground forces making a landing.'"

At the time he wrote (just prior to the massive November air raids on Berlin) Clifton said the air offensive already had reduced Germany's manufacturing capacity by at least 35 percent, diminished the power of the Luftwaffe and forced it into a weakening defense, and had seriously damaged German civilian morale.

With an estimated 1,800,000 persons made homeless by the air attacks, Clifton said it had become increasingly evident that German propagandists were chiefly concerned with the effect on civilian morale.

ROOF CATCHES FIRE The department was called to 120 Russell street this afternoon about 1:40 o'clock when flames from the chimney which burned out set fire to the roof, which was quite badly damaged before the blaze was extinguished.
